Cadets Head Home For The Holidays

The SJMS Cadets scattered in all directions as they headed home for the Christmas and New Year's holidays following their last scheduled event Wednesday, Dec. 22.

The Christmas furlough will end at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 3.

A chartered bus left campus with a load of Westbound Cadets at 4 p.m. Wednesday, driving non-stop to Denver. The bus will leave Denver for the return trip at 11 a.m., Mountain Standard Time, Jan. 3. Parents are asked to provide a box lunch for the return trip.

Parents of Cadets returning on the El Capitan into Newton are asked to advise the school if their son will need transportation from Newton to Salina.

Lt. Col. James Rose, Commandant/Senior Army Instructor, said that Cadets may not return to Salina before noon, Jan. 3, unless by special written permission from the Commandant or in company with parents.

Cadets are asked to report to Battalion Headquarters in person not later than one hour after they arrive in Salina according to Col. Rose.

Upper School Bowling Set

A Bowling league for Cadets in the Upper School will be organized following Christmas furlough. Plans are being made to have eight to ten five-man teams bowling in the league.

Team and individual trophies will be presented at the end of the School year.

F/Sgt. William Bunting, tactical officer, is the League sponsor. Members of the faculty and staff have volunteered to be scorekeepers and team advisors.

The Cadets will bowl on Saturday evening at the New Holiday Bowl in Salina. Sgt. Bunting urged Cadets owning bowling balls to bring them back after the Christmas vacation.

I. Snider Wins Speech Event

Ian Snider won first place and a $100 scholarship in the local part of the 31st annual "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary.

The program is designed to give high school students an opportunity to voice their opinions on their responsibility to the country, according to Mrs. Carolyn Scofield, speech teacher.

The topic of Snider's talk was "My Responsibility to America". He won second place in the contest last year with a different topic.

He will compete for state honors next.

The text of his talk can be found on page 2 of this issue of "The Skirmisher".

Enrollment Soars

Enrollment of Cadets at St. John's Military School is the highest it has been in a decade according to Capt. Larry Lysell, Admissions Officer. A total of 207 boys are currently students at the school.

THE BUGLES STILL BLOW at St. John's Military School for formations during the day. The Bugler is Cliff Cernick. Standing at attention is Rick Coutts.

Christmas Party Held

The annual Christmas party for members of the Cadet Corps, members of the faculty and staff and School trustees was held in Nichols Dining Hall, Tuesday, Dec. 20.

A dinner and party followed the traditional Christmas carols and lessons service in Armstrong Chapel.

The Company Carol competition followed the dinner.

Each of the four Companies sings at least one verse of a carol or Christmas song and many included readings, skits and plays in a Christmas theme.

Judges for the competition were Mrs. Nedra Hough, Cadet Jerry Graham, the Rev. Loyd Holifield and M/Sgt. Ronald Hockett.

Sommers Says: Evaluations Are Helpful

The North Central Evaluation process was coordinated seven years ago by Maj. Paul Sommers Guidance Counselor. Once again the School is undertaking the evaluation and Maj. Sommers is the coordinator.

He said, "Seven years ago I stood before the faculty and staff and naively announced we were going to undergo a NCA evaluation. I remember stressing that the total process would last the better part of a school year. It did and we really worked. We had no idea of the amount of time, talent and effort it would take."

He continued, "When I announced the evaluation for this year I felt good because we are still reaping the benefits of our last study. Many aspects of the School have been vastly improved since that study."

He explained that there are three separate phases to the evaluation. The first is an in-depth self-study. The second phase involves a visiting team of expert education, 15 representing the Independent School's Association and the NCA. The team will visit in April, 1978. The third and final phase is the implementation of improvements.

Maj. Sommers said that the first phase of the evaluation is progressing very well and most of the visiting team members have been selected.

All areas of school life including both the Upper and Lower Schools, Military department and Cadet activities will be examined.

Counselor Attends NCA Workshop

Maj. Paul Sommers, Guidance Counselor, attended a North Central Association workshop in Abilene in November. John Vigneron and Dr. Milo Studkey outline the processes and purposes of an evaluation.

St. John's is undergoing the every seven-year evaluation by NCA. Maj. Paul Sommers is the evaluation coordinator.

He said, "Counting elementary, junior high and colleges, more than 4,500 educational institutions hold active membership in NCA in a 19 state region."

The association is a voluntary, non-profit group to improve education through cooperative efforts.

Vocal Groups Sings Carols

Christmas carols were sung by the Boys Glee Club and General Music class at three different occasions during the holiday season.

Residents of the Windsor Estates and Kenwood View Nursing homes were serenaded with carols the evening of Dec. 12. Following the caroling, chili and popcorn were served at the home of Mrs. Nedra Hough, music teacher.

The two groups sang carols in the downtown Salina shopping area Saturday, Dec. 17. Hot chocolate and cookies were served the Cadets at the Hilton Inn following the programs.

Several Christmas numbers were presented as a part of the Christmas Service in Armstrong Chapel, Dec. 20.

Capt. Lysell Foundation Goes South Meetings Planned

Capt. Larry Lysell, Director of Admissions, is visiting interested students, patrons, church officials and civic groups in southern Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas from Dec. 14 to 23.

He will show the sound-slide presentation, "The SJMS Story" to interested groups. He will be in Tulsa, Dec. 14-15; Oklahoma City, Dec. 19-20; Dallas, Dec. 16-18, and Wichita, Dec. 21.

Fund Drive Progresses

The drive to raise funds for the renovations of rooms in Sage and Griswold Hall is continuing according to Lt. Col. Paul H. Kellogg, Vice President for Development. He said that the response to the appeal has been encouraging.

Funds will be used to upgrade the rooms and add new furniture to improve the quality of living at SJMS according to Col. Kellogg.

Contributions in the amount of $500 and $1000 are being solicited. Donors will have their names attached to the rooms that are renovated. The average cost per room is expected to be $1,000 including paneling, lockers, new floor covering, new ceilings and new study desks.

Rooms in Griswold Hall will be the first to be renovated.

A "Telethon" to alumni and former patrons of the School was conducted in Denver, Dec. 9-12. Col. Kellogg and Lt. Col. V.B. Loy, Social Science teacher, called urging support of the project. Also assisting were D. Dale Browning, Class of '55 and a School trustee, and Col. R. L. Clem, former superintendent of St. John's.

Calls were also made from Salina by Col. Keith G. Duckers, Superintendent, Mrs. Hazel Fonck, Administrative assistant, Lt. Col. R. L. Guernsey, Science department chairman and Capt. Larry Lysell, Admissions officer.

Responsibility To America

(Editor's Note -- The following editorial is the oration written and given by Ian Snider in the VFW Voice of Democracy contest. He won first place in the local contest.)

As a citizen of the United States, I have one specific duty: to help make this nation better for the Americans of today and Americans of tomorrow. In order to do this, I have many responsibilities, among them are voting, striving to help others, and to clean up America.

The most important responsibility for me as well as any citizen is voting. The right to vote gives us the opportunity to place qualified people in high government positions, ranging from the Mayor of a town to the office of the President of the United States. But, on the other hand, there are some people who don't bother to go to the polls and vote. This accomplishes nothing, except to say they don't care. And we as teenagers must realize apathy accomplishes nothing. Its too easy to sit back and let someone else take the initiative. We all must take part in elections if our country is to remain a democracy and a strong leader among the other nations of the world.

People are the backbones of any democratic society and we must provide the basic foundation for a stronger nation. In order to make this country prosperous, adults must set the example for us, the American youth. By helping with youth-oriented organizations, adults can better prepare the next generation for the future. After all, the future of America lies with the youth, for we are the potential leaders of the United States. As future adults, we must set examples for young people in our generation so that they will become better citizens. We can pattern ourselves after responsible adults of today by getting involved with youth groups in our churches, the YMCA, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the 4-H clubs, and the Big Brothers and Big Sisters Organizations. When the time comes, we all must do our part and be leaders, for all youths need guidance, supervision, and someone to look up to.

Another way of setting the example would be to help fight pollution and preserve our natural resources. We cannot exist without clean air, water, and land, and because our nation has become so complex, we require more energy. Therefore, we must strive to conserve our existing supply before it vanishes. We can help out in many ways, such as picking up garbage, using the buses more often, saving old newspapers and aluminum cans in order to recycle them, and traveling at fifty-five miles per hour. By seeing current leaders improve on present conditions, we have begun to realize just how important our environment is. Hopefully, we will continue to fight to save the land, and use, wisely, the short supply of energy that we have.

Improving environmental conditions; supporting and helping youth, and voting are my responsibilities as an American citizen. But, not only are they my responsibilities, they are the responsibilities of each and every one of you who calls himself an American.

... Ian Snider

SJMS Shield Patterns Given

Mrs. Paul M. Snider, Tracy, Californis, has created a pattern of the St. John's Military shield which she has had reproduced. She has donated the patterns to the SJMS Foundation to be sold.

The design of the pattern is 9 3/4" x 12 1/4" and some are printed on graph paper which would be suitable for needle-point or rug making. Others are on plain paper for crewel work, embroidery or wood-burning.

The patterns are available through Mrs. Fonck's office, St. John's School, at a cost of $1.00 each.

Mrs. Snider also designed and made the cushion for the bench in Meditation Chapel of Armstrong Chapel. She is the mother of Cadets Ian and Gordon Snider.

RIF Program Art Class To Begin

St. John's Military School will start participating in the Reading is Fundamental program during the second semester according to Mrs. Martha Lohmann, School Librarian.

She explained that this is a federally supported program which provides matching funds for the free distribution of paperback books. During the course of the year each Cadet may select at least three books to keep. She continues, "The premise behind the program is that pride of ownership and student selection of his books will help motivate reading and show that reading is fun."

Art Class Takes Trip

The second year art class, taught by Mrs. Virginia Vishneske, has taken two field trips recently. A trip was made to the Birger Sandzen Art Gallery and the Old Mill Museum in Lindsborg, Nov. 13.

A trip to see "Trifinity", a bronze sculpture in the plaza area of the City-County building was made Nov. 10. The Cadets then visited Millrace gallery, Salina, where Dr. Richard Bergen, creator of "Trifinity", explained the process for creating and casting a bronze sculpture.

Cadets Lose at Free Throw Line

Ell-Saline took advantage of St. John's foul trouble to defeat the Cadets 49-41, Dec. 6 in the Brookville gym.

The score was tied at 8-8 after the first period but the Cardinals opened up an 18-11 lead at halftime over the Cadets, who were playing their third straight road game.

St. John's cut the margin to 30-26 after the third period but could come no closer than four points in the final quarter as four Cadets fouled out.

Each team had 15 field goals but the Cardinals hit 19 of 31 free throws while the Cadets scored 11 points from the line.

Rick Stitt paced the Cadet attack with 17 points on eight fielders and a foul shot.

Cadets Defeat Tescott, 59-48

The Cadets snapped a losing streak by defeating the Tescott Trojans, 59-48, in an Eisenhower League West basketball game in the SJMS Gym, Dec. 9.

The Cadets, behind the scoring and rebounding of 6-4 Jim Severson, led nearly the entire game in ending a long dry spell and boosting their record to 1-3.

The first quarter featured numerous turnovers and limited offensive attacks from both teams and the score was tied 6-6 at the end of the period.

St. John's built a nine-point lead behind three unanswered field goals and a free throw for its biggest lead of the first half, 21-12.

Tescott came back with six of the next eight points to make it 23-18 in favor of the Cadets at halftime.

Super Third Quarter

Then St. John's behind the scoring and defense of junior guard Mark Chardi, David Schaaf and Severson put together an awesome third quarter balloning their lead to 13 points at one time.

Tescott chipped away at the Cadet lead throughout the fourth period but the closest the Trojans could get was 44-41 with 5:10 to play. From then on a stingy SJMS defense and a conservative, but effective, offense turned back Tescott's chances of a league win.

Severson led the Cadets with 14 points while Chardi and Schaaf added 13 each to give new coach Larry Mattison his first basketball win.

"I was very pleased with the way we handled the boards and that made it possible for us to win," said a happy Mattison.

The Beloit team made a clean sweep for the night by winning the B-game 74-40.
