Vol. LXV

No. 7

June 1980

Year Ends on High Note With Commencement

The St. John's Military School year ended on some high notes.

Several announcements of importance were made during Commencement ceremonies for the 92nd Corps of Cadets Sunday morning, May 18.

D. Dale Browning, Denver, Colo., Chairman of the Development Committee of the St. John's Board of Trustees, announced the $356,000 "Bridging the Gap" fund drive had exceeded its goal with $404,000 in cash and pledges in the coffers.

The drive will be concluded, however, with extra money used to create a facade on Clem Library and Ferris Hall to bring the buildings into architectural harmony with the nearly-completed Vanier Academic Center.

Browning, an "old boy" from the Class of 1955 had special praise for the Salina community where the drive goal was exceeded by a significant percentage. He also commended the faculty, staff, and Cadets who also exceeded their goals by a large margin.

Honor Unit

Brig. Gen. Richard F. Fye, Ft. Riley, commander of the Third ROTC region, told the Corps that the School was an honor unit with distinction, the highest rating on the ROTC list.

Battalion Commander Scot Greenidge passed the Hardy Sabre, symbol of command, to Scott Martin, Broomfield, Colo., who will command the 93rd Corps of Cadets which musters in the fall.

Brigadiers Are Honored

The Brigadiers, individuals or firms contributing $1,000 in a school year, received their medallions during Commencement ceremonies.

Honored from Salina were A-Smile-A-Minute, Beech Aircraft, Kennedy & Coe, Milton L. Morrison, Richard Morrison, Roger Morrison, National Bank of America, Wright-Lorenz Grain Company, and Dr. William Null.

Others were Mark Adams, Wichita, Kas.; Herbert Becker, Denver, Colo.; James O. Cox, Steamboat Springs, Colo.; Lyman G. Linger, Loveland, Colo.; M. Clare Miller and Mrs. Sadie Miller, McPherson, Kans.; Harry Noznesky, Reading, Pa.; Eric Ringkjob, Boulder, Colo.; Mrs. J.G. Spencer, Denver, Colo.; Ben Taylor, Tulsa, Okla.; Col. Courtney S. Turner, Atchison, Kans. and the Wardens & Vestery of Trinity Church, Atchison, Kans.

The appointment was made by the first special order of the 1980-81 school year and read: "There being a number of Cadets fully capable of directing and leading the 93rd Corps of Cadets, and after carefully judging all candidates from all aspects, it has been determined that the best Cadet is Michael Scott Martin."

Terry Fihaley was named as the commander of the Crack Drill Squad for the 1980-81 year by this year's commander, Mark Bassett. The announcement was made near the end of the drill before the Senior Dance.

Diplomas were presented to the 18 graduating Cadets by the Rt. Rev. William Davidson, Bishop of Western Kansas and SJMS Chairman of the Board, and Col. Keith G. Duckers, President.

Brigadier Medallions were presented to individuals and firms contributing $1,000 or more in money and services during a calendar year. Making the presentations were G.W. Nicholson, Chairman of the Executive committee, Bishop Davidson and Col. Duckers.

Following the pass-in-review, the National Anthem and Taps, Greenidge dismissed the 92nd Corps forever.

For the first time in many years, the First Infantry Band from Ft. Riley was unable to participate in the Commencement. The South High School Band presented the concert and played for the processional.

The Cadet Band, directed by Max Montgomery, played for the final parade.

Merit Awards Given

Faculty merit awards were given two Cadets at the end of the school year. Jeff Straub earned commendation as the most improved bandsman and John Wright was recognized for his work with the seventh and eighth grade shop classes.

The Change of Command

Principles For Life Are Important Cadets Told

The Class of 1980 was given principles by which to live from Roger Bigler, Oakland, Calif., Class of 1955.

A real estate and management consultant, Bigler was the speaker during Commencement ceremonies.

He gave the Cadets seven principles:

1. You alone determine all your choices.
2. You must make agreements with yourself.
3. Be committed to your goals and persistent in their achievement.
4. When you say to yourself somebody should be doing something, remember you are somebody.
5. You must recognize the difference between trying and doing.
6. You need to know there is little achievement or growth without tension.
7. Don't be afraid of failure if you are to be creative and innovative."

He urged the Cadets "To be a futurist, understand yourself, the source of your feelings and beliefs. Acknowledge God is working through you and you will be a unique creative force."

Feeling that tension and stress are not all bad, Bigler said, "To be tense about a concern is to acknowledge there is a problem worth solving. Dealing with tenseness is to seek out the causes of what is wrong in contrast with what could be the greater good."

Morale Is High Says President

The 1979-80 school year ended on a high note according to Col. Keith G. Duckers, President. He said, "Morale was unusually high for a number of reasons."

He continued: "First of all, we have had a very good year. Secondly, there is an air of excitement as the new Vanier Academic Center nears completion."

Col. Duckers added that about 80 boys can look forward to living in brand new quarters in the newly remodeled Clem and Ferris barracks. Plans are being made to do some remodeling in Mize and Sage Halls, so all Cadet living facilities "will be the best ever offered at the School."

He said, "We are also very excited about our new music program, both vocal and instrumental, and our speech/drama/forensics program which will be reinstituted."

President Duckers is optimistic about the next school year. Enrollments are running well ahead of previous years and it is anticipated the 1980-81 year will open with a full house.

Foundation Pays On Drive Pledge

The SJMS Foundation has already paid $18,090 towards its three-year pledge of $50,000 to the "Bridging The Gap" rebuilding fund according to Jim Cox, Foundation president. Cox made the announcement at the bi-annual meeting of the Foundation May 17.

Another $1225 has been pledged by several individuals toward the Foundation project.

New Academic Center Named for The Vaniers

The new classroom-administration building nearing completion on the St. John's Military School campus will be named the Vanier Academic Center.

The announcement was made April 26 by the Rt. Rev. William Davidson, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and William Nicholson, McPherson, Executive Committee chairman.

Naming of the new facility was by unanimous decision of the trustees at their quarterly meeting held in late April, Bishop Davidson said.

The name was chosen to honor the late John J. Vanier, Salina businessman, and Mrs. Vanier, both long-time supporters of the school. Mr. Vanier served on the School's Board of Trustees. Both of the Vaniers' sons, Jerry and Jack, attended St. John's and are former trustees. Their son-in-law, Joe Hale, Leawood, also is a former member of the board.

Mr. Vanier, who had business interests in milling, banking and ranching died in February.

The Vanier center will replace Vail Hall, erected in 1887 and destroyed by fire in 1978. The new building is scheduled for completion by Aug. 15 in time for the opening of the fall term.

Clem Library and Ferris Hall are being remodeled into barracks to replace Griswold Hall, destroyed in the same fire. Work has started on this project and the rooms are expected to be ready for occupancy this fall.

The Vanier Academic Center

Bishop Davidson Will Leave Salina

The Rt. Rev. William Davidson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Kansas, will leave Kanss to become assistant bishop in the Diocese of Ohio, effective Nov. 15.

Bishop Davidson serves as the Chairman of the St. John's Military School Board of Trustees and frequently was the Celebrant at services in Armstrong Chapel.

Bishop Davidson will leave Salina after 15 years as bishop of the entire western half of Kansas.

His letter of resignation said: "This announcement, which is no doubt a surprise to all of you, represents the outcome of a tremendous amount of prayer and thought to determine God's will for me, and my continuing ministry.

"I regret that this will separate Mrs. Davidson and me from our long-standing, close relationship of mutual love and devotion among the people of Western Kansas as we have all labored together in Ministry to preach the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and to extend the mission of His church in our part of the Kingdom. We shall miss this joy and excitement greatly."

Bishop Davidson was installed in Salina in January 1966 following his election by the House of Bishops, from the rectorship of Grace Church, Jamestown, N.D. He is the sixth bishop of the Diocese.

— THE SKIRMISHER —

Published eight times during the year by St. John's Military School and its Cadets under the financial and legal sponsorship of St. John's Military School, Salina, Kansas 67401, a non-profit corporation. Subscription rates are $3.00 per year payable in advance.

Cadets Appear on Silver Screen In "Up The Academy"

"Up The Academy", filmed almost entirely on the St. John's Military School campus last fall opened June 6 in theaters across the country.

Filed under the title "The Brave Young Men of Weinberg", the name was changed when "Mad Magazine" purchased the movie.

The 92nd Corps of Cadets appear in many scenes. The Corps receives a special credit and thanks in the final frame of the film.

The first problem facing the producers as they prepared to film the movie was...where? After scouting private schools throughout the country, the nod went to SJMS.

A Sense of Humor

"St. John's had everything we needed", says co-producer Marvin Worth, "including a sense of humor."

Other schools had admittedly been sensitive to the film's barbed comedy.

"We'd show them the script and that was the end of it", Worth said. "But Col. Keith Duckers was amused. He's a very enlightened man and the cooperation from his entire staff was sensational."

Almost every member of the Cadet Corps, grades three through 12, managed--at one time or another--to get into the picture. So, too, did several hundred Salina area residents--cast as stand-ins, extras and bit players.

The incoming plebes get their first taste of life at Weinberg during an orientation lecture in the school auditorium. There, vinegary Commandant Causeway--played by veteran character actor Ian Wolfe--gives them his Patton-tinged reminiscence of bloodying the beach at Normandy.

Next they meet the officers who will guide them to manhood.

Barbara Bach is Lt. Col. Fern Blissan armaments expert whose lowcut tunic highlights her lessons.

Cultural affairs at Weinberg are in the capable hands of M/Sgt. Sergio Sisson. As played by Tom Poston, Sisson is a whiz at teaching ballroom dancing and macrame.

As the academy's soccer coach, Antonio Fargas--the ingenious "Huggy Bear" from Starsky and Hutch--has a pragmatic approach to the sport.

Finally, there is Major Vaughan Liceman, played by Ron Leibman. Ramrod straight, he has the steely eyes of the truly insane. Educated at Weinberg, he left to spend the "happiest moments of his life in Vietnam," then returned to become the school's second in command. He is a hard man but an unfair one.

For most of the cast, filming and living in the Kansas heartland was a new experience. The four pivotal young Cadets--are played by Wendell Brown, Ralph Macchio, Hutch Parker and Tom Citera. They are all New Yorkers with varying degrees of acting experience.

The warmth between the community of Salina and SJMS and the chaotic carnival of the filming was reflected in many small ways. Barbara Bach, for instance spent a day off at an impromptu acting seminar for local teenagers.

"It doesn't hurt to be star-stuck. I know I was", she told the young people. "But whatever endowment nature gave you, you'll never make it unless you learn your craft. Acting isn't a ticket to an easy life. It's hard work".

The production designer, Peter Wooley, made frequent talks on film making to various local groups.

Antonio Fargas
...as the Soccer Coach

Golf nut Tom Poston joined the Salina Country Club and could invariably be found--when needed for retakes--on the links.

At the end of the production, props, costumes and mementos from the production were auctioned off at a fund-raising function for the St. John's building program. Included was a statue of General Sheldon R. Weinberg, founder of Weinberg Academy.

The statue was purchased by Mrs. Chester Hopper, Weeping Water, Neb. who gave the statue to the school.

The Warner Bros. publicity release said, "The statue will probably remain there at SJMS--as a mute reminder of the momentary madness that briefly over whelmed an otherwise spotless school."
