

ST. JOHN'S MILITARY SCHOOL SKIRMISHER

Vol. LXV

No. 1

October 1979

Parents' Weekend Scheduled

Parents' Weekend will be held Oct. 26-28. The weekend activities were started several years ago when the traditional Festival of Thanksgiving at the School was eliminated. Cadets now go home during that holiday season.

Activities will begin with the Dads and football team dinner in Nichols Dining Hall at 4 p.m.

The "Miss SJMS" dinner for the 92nd Corps of Cadets and the queen candidates will be at 6 p.m. in the dining hall. The queen selected will reign during the game and at the dance following. Her picture will be featured in the 1979-80 year-book "The Sound-Off".

Pre-game ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. on Perkins Field. The announcement of the winner of the "Miss SJMS" pageant will be made and the fathers of the Cadet football players will be introduced.

Immediately following the game, the homecoming dance will be held in the Baner Gymnasium featuring the "Phase Four" band.

Parents will have an opportunity to visit with faculty and staff members from 8 to 11:30 a.m. Upper School conferences will be held in the Baner gym and Lower School conferences in Parkview Hall.

The Lower School Cadets will play a football game at 10 a.m. on Perkins Field.

THE FLAG FLIES as St. John's Military School begins the 1979-80 school year. The 20-foot by 30-foot flag, believed to be the largest in the city, was donated to the School by the Busboom & Rauh construction firm in memory of former SJMS board member, Don Rauh and his father, Joe.

A New Era Begins ... Says President

The beginning of a new "era" was the way Col. Keith G. Duckers, President, described the opening of the 92nd year at the boarding military school for boys.

Vail Hall is gone. The new academic, administration building is beginning to emerge from the ground. Basements and footings have been poured and construction is running two weeks ahead of schedule.

There is the constant rumble of cement trucks arriving and leaving. Bulldozers and front-end loaders move the "limestone" salvaged from Vail Hall and other construction materials about the site.

Carpenters are busy pounding nails and building forms. Brick masons are in the process of putting a "new face" on Sage Hall.

The new maintenance and shop and mechanical arts building is being used by the Cadets and the maintenance department. The brick veneer, decorating the exterior, has yet to be laid. The landscaping remains to be finished.

Snow fence surrounds the construction site and Cadets walk to classes through a walkway surrounded by more fences.

And then there is the whirl of movie cameras and the busy activities of filming a movie.

Colonel Duckers said "There is an air of excitement on the SJMS campus".

St. John's The Location For Warner Bros. Movie

The SJMS Cadets are in the "lights" and routine activities are filmed daily as Warner Brothers began production of a major movie Monday, Sept. 16 on the campus.

Warner Brothers officials announced in early July that the Salina school and Salina would be the site of the filming of a new movie.

The School and Salina were selected after Ira Loonstein, production manager, had visited seven locations across the United States. Production designer, Peter Wooley, also strongly recommended the Midwest location.

Loonstein and Wooley have been in Salina since early August making arrangements for housing, arranging business matters, leasing cars, and designing and building sets prior to the arrival of the filming crew and stars.

A crew of carpenters, under the direction of Wooley, has constructed a bungalow near Nichols Hall, an obstacle course on the west edge of the campus, and a barracks room in Parkview Hall. Other construction projects in Salina have involved the building of a guard house and the installation of wrought iron gates at Kansas Wesleyan.

92nd Corps to Star

The Hollywood cast consists of the leads and a few supporting roles. Many local people have been recruited to play the parts, Loonstein said. The entire 92nd Corps is appearing in the show.

"There is a dance, so we needed girls. And there is a parents' day scene, so we needed parents," added Loonstein.

"We've used the Cadets because, one, they have spiffy uniforms and two, because they can already march", Loonstein said.

Filming is expected to end shortly before Thanksgiving.

The film centers on the escapades of boys in a military academy, where the commandant is a retired, partly-senile military man and the executive officer (played by Ron Liebman of "Kaz") is always one step ahead of the Cadets.

Title Could Change

The movie has the working title "Brave Young Men". "But that could change according to Loonstein before release of the movie."

The movie is also being filmed at Kansas Wesleyan, Marymount College and at several other locations around town. One scene will be shot in the Country Club area. That scene will focus on the house one of the Cadets owns -- purchased for him by his father, an oil sheik. It comes complete with a pink Cadillac in the garage.

First week scenes were shot before a Western store in downtown Salina and a service station at Brookville, Kansas.

Governor Commends Cadet Corps

The Governor of Kansas, John Carlin, wrote the School following the Hollywood Night festivities. He wrote: "I thought the Hollywood Night event went very well, and that your Cadets did a fine job. I might add that I haven't had many welcomes like your Cadets provided at the Bicentennial Center that night."

"I think that having the movie shot in Salina at St. John's should prove interesting for everyone involved. I know that I intend to follow the progress of the shooting and I hope that the movie is a success."

A crew of about 80 people was assembled and brought to Salina for the production.

Filming goes on around the construction of the new Administration, Academic building. Buildings at Kansas Wesleyan will be blended in to the film, (creating an administration build-

Second Benefit Auction Set

The second annual benefit auction, sponsored by the St. John's Foundation, will be held during Parents' Weekend, Oct. 26-28.

The Auction will be held at 4 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 27 at Big John's Steak House. Mrs. Jack (Donna) Vanier is the chairman of the event for the second year.

Sale items may be viewed from 2 to 4 p.m. that day at Big John's. Mrs. Helen Graves, owner, is donating the facilities for the event. Joe Mendicino has again agreed to be the auctioneer.

Last year, the auction raised $14,000 to be used in the reconstruction of the academic, administration center. Mrs. Vanier says plans are being made to exceed that figure this year.

Items already donated include a hand-embroidered Scandinavian tablecloth. The ivory-colored cloth with champagne and tan embroidery is hand hem-stitched.

A latch-hook Christmas tree skirt has also been donated as

Bunting Survives, Wins In Canoe Race

It's a long way from Hutchinson, Kans. to New Orleans, regardless of the mode of transportation. And if you want to know how far it is in a canoe just ask tactical officer, Sgt/FC Bill Bunting.

Sgt. Bunting and David Fanshler, husband of former SJMS English teacher, Barbara Fanshler, entered the Great National Canoe Race last summer.

Relatively inexperienced in canoeing, they drew the nickname "Never Make It" for their aluminum canoe.

15 Make It

Only 15 vessels paddled into New Orleans to complete the longest canoe race in history of the 44 that put their boats in the water at Hutchinson.

Among those 15 -- in fact fourth in line -- were Bunting and Fanshler, two of the race's least experienced participants and also among the oldest.

By the time the canoes reached Ft. Smith, Ark., only 25 teams remained in the race, some 19 having decided that there was too much work and not enough fun, or they had been spooked by tales of the rough Mississippi, still well down the line.

Bunting said, "That's all we heard, over and over, was how bad the Mississippi was going to be, how it wasn't anything like the Arkansas river".

Leery of the Mississippi, many canoes -- including Bunting's -- stayed near the shoreline, in "dead water" areas instead of in the main current. That meant lost time. "It was rough all the way that first day" Bunting said.

Got Rougher

Things got rougher further down because larger tugs in the river meant more danger of being swamped. As the canoeists got closer to New Orleans, bigger vessels became more frequently visible and even more caution had to be taken to avoid taking a dip.

"We never went in," Bunting said proudly, "but plenty of the others did." The canoes don't sink, because of the flotation device, so all you have to do is to hold on. Everyone else watched out for you, too; if there was any danger, everyone forgot about the race, even if it was your closest competitor and helped out.

When the canoes pulled in at Moonwalk on Jackson Square in New Orleans the group was given a police escort through the French Quarter, which Bunting said was "a highlight of the trip."

"We were just glad to finish, especially since everyone thought we couldn't do it." Even the guy who organized the race said he would have bet money that we wouldn't make it all the way, much less finish fourth."

"I guess everybody had a point where they said 'I don't want to go any more' or 'I can't finish the race' but that never occurred to me" Bunting said.

He said safety was stressed at all times and there was no boating after dark.

SJMS Story Told at Convention

The "St. John's Story" was presented at a booth during the Triennial convention of the Episcopal Church in Denver during September. Col. Keith G. Duckers, School president, represented the School during the first week of the convention.

Lt. Larry Lysell, Admissions director, was the school's representative for the second week.

Cadets attending were Truls Ringjob and Max Montgomery.

"It had nothing to do with the location, but it has everything to do with the people. People have been very receptive here. It is a nice place to work."

Nuss Funeral Held in June

Funeral services for Hubert E. (H.E.) Nuss, former St. John's teacher and Director of Studies, were held this summer. Mr. Nuss, 57, died in June following a long illness.

He was born April 29, 1922 in Barton County and came to Salina in 1952 joining the staff at St. John's shortly thereafter. After leaving St. John's, he served as the assistant principal at Salina High School Central.

Surviving are his wife, Erma Lee, 844 McAdams Road; a daughter, Melanie, Wichita; and a son, Lawton, Lawrence.

Kansas Non-Public Schools Plan November Convocation

Nearly 4000 parents, teachers, school children, and the interested public are expected to participate in the convocation for the Kansas Association for Non-Public Schools Nov. 9, in Kansas City and Wichita. The program of guest speakers, workshops, displays, and worship experiences will focus on the theme, "Reaching In, Reaching Up, Reaching Out."

Organized in 1964, KANS is a coalition of approximately 150 church-related schools enrolling over 30,000 students at the elementary and secondary levels across the state of Kansas.

At Bishop Carroll High School in Wichita, KANS Convocation participants will hear noted English Catholic author, critic, and lecturer, Christopher Hugh Derrick.

The "MASTER Teacher," Robert L. DeBruyn, will talk to Kansas City participants gathering at Bishop Miege High School. Based in Manhattan, Kansas, DeBruyn is the author, publisher and founder of "The MASTER Teacher," a weekly program of professional training used by teachers in over 12,000 schools.

The public is encouraged to attend.

Warner Bros. (cont. from pg. 1) ing), to make it appear as one campus. Wooley said the result would be a campus that was unidentifiable.

The shop portion of Ferris Hall is being used for the various construction and art projects needed in designing the sets. The Warner staff has an office in the area as well as the Hilton Inn. Mrs. Donna Vanier, wife of former trustee and "old boy" Jack Vanier, is the liaison officer between the School and the film executives.

During the times the Cadets are involved in daytime filming, classes will be held in the evening. Warner Brothers is providing tutorial help for both the Cadets and local students involved in the movie to keep school work caught up.

The setting at St. John's was not the primary reason Loonstein and Wooley decided to recommend it for filming.

A GOOD TRY

SJMS Cadet Robert Hamilton struggles to get through an obstacle course built at the School for use in the Warner Brothers movie. The course was built on the west edge of the campus near Perkins field. The Cadets were asked to use the course so it would look more realistic when filming of that portion of the movie begins. SIGNS AUTOGRAPHS -- Ron Liebman, "Kaz" on TV, signs autographs and shakes hands with youngsters at "Hollywood Night" in Salina.

Film Folks Greeted At Salina Gathering

Salina and the Cadets and staff of St. John's Military School and the staff and stars of the Warner Brothers movie, "The Brave Young Men" were introduced to each other and said nice things about each other.

The occasion was "Hollywood Night" at the Salina Bicentennial Center. Shooting for the film began Monday morning, Sept. 17, on the SJMS campus.

About 1,000 persons were in Heritage Hall when Chamber of Commerce manager Bob Whitworth led Gov. John Carlin and the guests through an honor guard of St. John's Cadets as the Salina Municipal band completed the "William Tell Overture."

"This is a great event for Salina and Kansas," the Governor told the movie makers. "And it's not just a matter of dollars and cents. It's an opportunity to learn about Kansas. . . We hope you'll leave with a good feeling about our state."

Among responses came one from Ron Liebman (the TV Emmy winner as "Kaz") who will star in the film.

Feels at Home

"Thank you for being here," he said. "We're all away from home -- I live at the beach or in New York -- and it's lonely to be away from home. But you have been so warm and open and friendly, I feel at home. And I thank you so much."

Mayor Karen Graves presented Keys to the City to co-producers Dan Rissner and Marvin Worth "on behalf of the citizens of Weinberg . . . oops, Salina."

The Mayor also suggested a sequel: "We'll expect 'Sons of the Brave Young Men' . . ."

Ira Loonstein, production manager, said that the movie is in a comedic vein and will seek a P.G. rating.

Besides Liebman, the film "Cadets" were introduced. They are Harry Teinowitz, Tom Citera, Hutch Parker, Ralph Macchio and Wendell Brown.

Real Stars

And Keith Duckers, SJMS president, introduced what he called the "real stars", the contingent of 50 St. John's Cadets who were in attendance.

Introduced on the dais were Lt. Gov. Paul Duggan; movie director Bob Downey; assistant director James Quinn and other members of the production crew.

Asked why Salina was selected as the location for the film, Loonstein said, "It's hard to say 'no' to Keith Duckers and Richard Shank." Shank heads the Film Services Division of the Kansas Department of Economic Development.

The movie crew expects to be in Salina until mid-November. The company has established an office at the Hilton Inn.

Benefit Auction (cont. from pg. 1) well as a ecru fringed afghan. These items were donated by Mr. & Mrs. Cecil Bassett.

Gene and Beverly Revels are donating a cocktail party for 40 people to be used sometime in the next six months.

Mrs. Lillian Faerber has made and given a pine cone wreath.

Another donation is a pheasant feather wreath made by Mrs. Bob Kastner. Mrs. Vanier said that wreaths of this type sell for $250 at Nieman-Marcus.

Mrs. H.A. Christian, grandmother of Cadet Eric Erickson, has given an afghan.

Lt. Marvin Towse is making and donating a mantel chime clock and an inlaid wood chess table.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nicholson are giving a week in their condominium in Palm Desert, Calif.

A woman's and a man's bowling outfit including shoes, ball and bag is being given by James Pennington.

Two or three pieces of antique furniture are being donated by Mrs. Grace Clary, mother of SJMS graduate Robin Clary.

Col. and Mrs. Mike Scanlan have presented the school with four turquoise rings to be auctioned.

Mrs. Don Price is providing a handmade, embroidered quilt. Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Martin are giving one set of steel radial tires for a passenger car. Retail value is $300.

Mrs. Vanier said that art is needed for the auction. She stressed that all items in the St. John's auction will be quality products. Anyone having an item to donate is asked to call Mrs. Vanier at the School.

CADET DRILLS

Youngsters the Key To Football Success

The name of the league has changed from the Eisenhower West League to the Post Rock League as the SJMS "Muleskinners" opened the 1979-80 season.

Larry Mattison, the former Kansas Wesleyan assistant, starts his third year as head coach at SJMS.

"The whole league is down in numbers this year," Mattison said. "There just aren't very many kids going out for football and we're no exception. We have a squad of just over 30.

"The key to our season will be how well our young kids can pull together and how quickly they learn. And when he says "young", he's not wrong.

The Cadets returned just five lettermen and only three of them started last year. Included in the list of graduated seniors were quarterback Robin South; half-back Kevin Smith and spit end Eric Pederson. Pederson snared 20 passes for 241 yards while South gained 500 yards rushing and Smith 402.

Needless to say, their absence leaves some gaping holes in the Cadet lineup.

Mattison is looking for two of his returning lettermen, seniors John Weatherman and Rick Makoski to guide the Cadet offense. Weatherman saw limited varsity action last year and was the B-team quarterback.

Makoski will lend the breakways factor to the offense after turning in a 10.5 100-yard dash time last spring during track.

The third back is junior Andy Wall and rounding out the backfield is slotback Carl Millberg.

The Cadet line also took on an entirely new face with only three returning lineman. Senior tackles Mike Cox and Errol Waddell anchor the offensive line and will play both ways. Seniors Dan Hofer and Jody Ginsler are seeing action but had no prior varsity experience.

Muleskinners Drop Three Overtime Game ... Score 6-0

The St. John's Cadets and the Tescott Trojans waged a Post Rock League football game, Friday night, Sept. 21, that neither will soon forget.

It took the Trojans three overtimes to finally subdue the Cadets, 6-0, in a struggle.

It was a game of frustration for both teams, with penalties playing a key role. The Cadets were tagged with 19 penalties for 165 yards while Tescott drew 11 penalties for 96 yards.

Tescott's winning touchdown came on a one-yard quarterback sneak by Gregg Webb after an encroachment penalty on the Cadets gave Tescott the ball at the five-yard line to start the third extra session.

There were no serious scoring threats in the first quarter. The Cadets drove to the Tescott 30 but a penalty stopped their momentum. The biggest play was a 50-yard run by Scott Martin, who also had a 21-yard run in the last half.

Junior back Max Montgomery of St. John's played an outstanding defensive game and intercepted three Tescott passes. He nabbed his first interception at the Cadets' 10 to stop a Trojan threat.

In the third quarter he intercepted his second pass on the Tescott nine, but the Cadets again let the opportunity to score get away from them.

and it paid off," said Cadet skipper Larry Mattison. "It came down to mental mistakes - such as two mouthpiece infractions in the overtimes. No special penalty hurt us but they've just got to think more out there."

Singled out by Mattison for good defensive plays for the Cadets were defensive tackle Mike Cox, a 200-pound senior, and Dan Hofer, a 150-pound senior noseguard.

The Cadets lost their first two games of the season to Tipton and Glasgow.

The ball again was at the St. John's 11 with 5:37 left when Montgomery was in the right place for the Cadets again, intercepting his third pass to stop the threat.
