M. Minson Receives MacArthur Award

The MacArthur Cadet-of-the-Year award was presented to Matthew W. Minson, Battalion Commander of the 94th Corps, in special ceremonies in Banes Gymnasium, Wednesday, Jan. 27.

The award is sponsored by the MacArthur Memorial Foundation, an organization founded by military and civilian personnel. One of the Foundation's functions is to perpetuate the MacArthur ideals -- Honor, Duty and Country.

Inspecting the honor guard and making the presentation was Brig. Gen. Cary B. Hutchinson jr., commander of the Third ROTC Region, headquartered at Ft. Riley. Other dignitaries included Brig. Gen. J.A. Seitz, (U.S. Army, ret.) and Lt. Gen. R.J. Seitz (U.S. Army, ret.), both of Junction City. Members of the Board of Trustees were special guests at the ceremony and the dinner following in Nichols Hall.

Minson, a Cadet Lieutenant Colonel, is a senior from Coffeyville, Ks. He was the unanimous choice to receive the award, based on his academic and athletic performance, leadership and soldierly bearing.

He has, from the date of his enrollment Aug. 25, 1977, served in all command capacities -- from platoon leader to battalion commander -- in the Corps. His extra curricular activities include football, track, the Crack Squad and the Cadet Court.

He has received the Good Conduct Ribbon, Marksmanship Medal, the SAR-ROTC Medal, the Lee Mirth award and the Golden Eagle award.

Frank Norton, member of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, read "A Father's Prayer", written by Gen. MacArthur. The invocation was given by the Rt. Rev. John F. Ashby, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Kansas. Other participants were Lt. Col. Paul H. Kellogg, Commandant, and Col. Keith G. Duckers, School President.

Music for the event was by the St. John's Cadet Band, directed by Brian Bradford, Cadet director, and the Sunflower Barbershop Chorus of Salina.

Named Cadet-of-Month

Thomas Rothrock was named Cadet-of-the-Month for January according to Lt. Col. Paul H. Kellogg, Commandant.

Early Reservations Urged

Parents and alums planning to attend Commencement activities, May 14-16, are urged to make early motel reservations.

The State Convention of the American Legion and Commencement at Marymount College are also scheduled that weekend.

Parents and friends are asked to patronize those motels that support "The Skirmisher" and the St. John's yearbook, "The Sound-Off".

Auction Plans Progress

Plans are progressing for the fourth SJMS Foundation Benefit Auction according to Mrs. Donna Vanier, Development Director. The Auction will be held Thursday, May 13, in Heritage Hall of the Bicentennial Center.

Ken Mausolf, President of the SJMS Foundation and auction general chairman, and his wife, Eileen, hosted a "gift gathering" party at their home in Denver Feb. 12. Representing the School at the event were Lt. Col. Paul Kellogg, Commandant, and Mrs. Kellogg and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Virgil Loy, representing the faculty and staff.

SJMS Trustee, Ron Green and his wife, Sue, will act as local chairpersons for the auction. Trustee Dennis Poer will head the "donations" committee and will be assisted by the other Trustees.

Wives of the Trustees will handle the invitations and decorations for the gala event.

Mrs. Vanier said that auction items are beginning to arrive at the School. Special items include a restored stained glass window from old Griswold Hall; a refinished and lined antique trunk; a 1982 automobile; two very special Navajo wall pieces; a scholarship to the "Heart of America Camps" in Salina; a "Weatherwood" original, numbered and signed Creche and a handmade afghan.

There will be no limit as to the number of items accepted. Some items will be used in a silent auction. Anyone wishing to donate worthwhile items is asked to contact Mrs. Vanier at the School.

Industrial Firm Donated to SJMS

St. John's Military School is in the manufacturing business, thanks to a sizeable gift from Mr. and Mrs. Walton C. Ferris, prominent Nebraska industrialists and supporters of the Salina School.

Donna Vanier, St. John's Director of Development, announced Jan. 22 that the School is the recipient of all 2,500 shares of common stock in National Manufacturing Company, Lincoln, Neb. which is owned by Ferris and his wife, Elizabeth.

The announcement was made to an audience of School Trustees, faculty and staff, and representative Cadets from the 94th Corps.

The Ferrises have been benefactors of St. John's for nearly 30 years. Funds for the Ferris shop building, now a part of Clem-Ferris Hall, were given by Mr. and Mrs. Ferris. Shop equipment and kitchen equipment in Nichols Hall have been other gifts from the couple.

The Ferris awards given at Commencement for outstanding work in shop and mechanical drawing have been endowed by Mr. Ferris.

Their son, Frederick, was a student at St. John's in the 1950's.

Developed by the Ferrises over the past 50 years, National Manufacturing now is a sprawling, 10-building complex in the northeast part of Lincoln. One of its best-known products is the "walking" lawn sprinkler, invented by Ferris. Other items manufactured in Lincoln range from power lawn thatchers to tools and dies for the rubber industry, and sophisticated ovens for the milling industry.

The company's stock has been placed in a trust by the St. John's Board of Trustees, governed by a three-member board consisting of Ferris; Virgil Renken, secretary-treasurer of the company, and Col. Keith G. Duckers, SJMS president.

Present plans call for National Manufacturing to continue its operation as it has in the past. The work force of more than 30 employees will remain on the job under the direction of the trust fund directors.

School officials declined to place a value on the Ferris gift. But Col. Duckers said it was comparable to another recent major gift to the School by alumnus Lyman Linger, Loveland, Colo. The Linger gift was a sizeable tract of ranchland near Loveland.

In a letter to Col. Duckers, Mr. Ferris said, "I am proud to have an opportunity to help with the edification of your students enrolled now and in the future.

St. John's, now in its 94th year, has an enrollment of 210 boys and operates under a $1.5 million budget.

Named Waiter-of-Month

Brad Post was commended as the Waiter-of-the-Month for January. Bob Gilliam, Food service director, makes the recommendation from his staff of Cadet waiters.

Winners Named In Pool

Cadet winners in the pool-shooting contest at the Winter Carnival were Jack Musgrave and Tim Valentine. Musgrave had the high aggregate score and Valentine had the high run.

The Chaplain's Corner

BEING STRONG IN THE LORD

As we begin this New Year we see several indications of strength. Sometimes a strong show of strength and then at other times we see the need for strength.

We see the need for strength when: the pressure in the form of martial law is being enforced upon the people of Poland; the thrust of Solidarity makes people all over the world react with aid, concern and prayer; the President, in his State of the Union message, asks for all of us to work together to make a strong nation; when we read of the flagrant selling and use of drugs in our country and throughout the world. Yes, a strong constitution - a set of strong and unbendable values are necessary. At this time in our lives when pressures from all quarters tend to break down values, we need to be strong.

During the months of January and February, we remember General Douglas MacArthur, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, men who had definite values and principles of living that could not be swayed.

It is with this type of loyalty to ourselves that we can be better citizens, an asset to our country and a true friend to our neighbor.

O Lord our Governor, teach all people to rely on your strength and to accept their responsibilities to their fellow citizens. Give courage to those who face peril and give strength to those who are tempted. Grant all a sense of your abiding presence, wherever they may be, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

God Bless you,

Fr. Norm †

Financial Director Outlines Options

LAWRENCE -- Kansas high school and community college students planning to attend college next fall should complete their applications for student financial aid by March 1, despite the current uncertainty surrounding federal student aid programs.

Jerry Rogers, KU director of Student Financial Aid, said recently, "There are several proposals under consideration at the federal level to change either the student eligibility guidelines or the funding levels, but nothing has been finalized. Even if students are unsure about whether they are eligible for financial aid, they should go ahead and apply for the 1982-83 academic year."

Students who think they qualify can obtain an American College Testing Program financial aid application from their high schools, junior colleges or KU's Office of Student Financial Aid. They should fill it out and mail it to arrive at ACT by March 1, Rogers said.

Applications arriving at ACT by March 1 have a better chance of being approved because they receive first consideration, Rogers explained.

Students are informed of their awards for the next academic year in early May. If they need more aid, they then can apply for Guaranteed Student Loans and part-time student employment.
