Bequest Announcement Made at Commencement

The announcement of a bequest, the awarding of the Gordon prize to a junior Cadet and the naming of a new Battalion commander were the highlights of Commencement weekend at St. John's Military School. The rain held off long enough Saturday and Sunday to permit events to be held as scheduled.

The public announcement of a bequest from the late Wiley T. Banes, Albuquerque, N.M., was made at the St. John's Military School Foundation luncheon Saturday at the Hilton Inn. Don LaMora, Colorado Springs, Foundation president, said the initial bequest was 20 percent of the estate held in trust, payable annually to St. John school through the life of Mrs. Banes. Upon the death of Mrs. Banes, the Salina school will receive 25 percent of the estate trust.

The Foundation, an organization of parents and friends supporting projects of the school, may use the money for any purpose for the benefit of St. John's, LaMora said. The first income from the trust should be paid in January of 1974. LaMora said the bequest is the largest gift ever made for the School's benefit.

The Foundation voted to recommend to the Board of Trustees that a significant component of the proposed sports complex be named in memory of Mr. Banes. He was a founder and early president of the Foundation. His son, Tom, was a graduate in 1961.

The Gordon prize, highest award given at St. John's, was presented to Mark Thomas, son of Mrs. Hazel Thomas, Manchester. The award is given to the Cadet best combining the qualities of excellence in academics, athletics and leadership and is not given every year. For the first time in the history of the school, the award was given to a junior Cadet.

Thomas has been a student for five years and has led his class academically during each of these years. He earned a school letter in football and is a member of the varsity rifle team.

Roy Knight III, son of Mrs. Roy A. Knight, jr., Weatherford Tex., and Col. Roy Knight, MIA over Laos since 1967, was named the Battalion commander of the 86th Corps of Cadets to be formed next September. The special order announcing the appointment of Knight said, "In making this selection much time and research has been necessary inasmuch as there are other Cadets who are fully qualified to assume the position as Battalion Commander. The final choice was made in the firm belief that he is best qualified among his peers".

In ceremonies following the awarding of diplomas to 25 seniors, Ken Harper, commander of the 85th Corps, Denver, presented the Hardy Sabre, symbol of command, to Knight.

Also honored during Commencement activities were the Brigadiers of the School. Presenting medals to individuals or organizations who have contributed $1,000 or more to some project at the School was James Greenwood, chairman of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

A crowd estimated at over a thousand attended the Commencement ceremonies and reviewed the final retreat parade and dismissal of the Battalion. The Brigadiers were honored by the parade.

The Rt. Rev. William Davidson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Kansas and president ex-officio of the St. John's board, asked the graduates to develop an understanding of the deep meaning of life and to develop a love for each other in his Baccalaureate address Sunday morning at Marymount College auditorium.

He said, "Churches are losing members because they haven't made life meaningful to members and don't demand enough from members. Discipline though difficult is necessary to be disciples".

Using the illustration of the life support system of the astronauts, Bishop Davidson said, "To gain and maintain support demands some discipline and control. When we get rid of discipline and control we lose the life support system. America is a free land, but you can't do as you please. America is a free land, but you can't do as you please. Jesus said, 'If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love.'"

Preceding the senior dance in the school gym on Saturday evening Walter Webb, Dodge City, was named the commander of the Crack Squad at the conclusion of the squad's performance.

During the Foundation luncheon on Saturday, Col. Duckers, Superintendent, announced to parents and friends that the School has been the recipient during the past year of $100,000 in trust funds to be used for scholarship purposes.
