NO new experience for Lt. Rex Long is the operation of boy's camps and boy's work. The head of the Language Dep't has devoted the past 12 years to work in this very field. As a Y. M. C. A. man, instructor in Colorado Military School, private tutor, director of boy's tours in Old Mexico and Colorado, counselor of a camp in Gunnison National Forest, instructor at St. John's, many and varied have been the problems to come his way.

And no new experience for St. John's, will be management of the Bar I L Ranch Camp . . . for the school was previously associated with camps of the late Ted Page.

But without doubt the new experiences that will come the way of those men who attend St. John's summer camp will long remain in their memory as some of the happiest times yet experienced. For the union of a splendid set up of buildings, what with hot and cold showers, handicraft shops, recreation lounge, splendidly equipped kitchen, beautiful dining room, heated lodges, infirmary, supervised swimming pool, commodious dormitories, . . . these coupled with a varied camp life of horse-back riding, hiking, fishing, sports, mountain-climbing, planned excursions to such celebrations as Cheyenne's Frontier Days . . . produce an unbeatable combination. With the close of school only six weeks away, vacation calls, and if you are one of those who heeds the cry of the Bar I L, consider yourself in for a treat!

THE Cadet Corps viewed both of the following photoplays when they were presented in Salina, so should be able to judge the sincerity of this remark from the "University Daily Kansan" . . .

One could eat his lunch alright during the showing of 'Gone With the Wind,' but it would take a pretty strong stomach to do it while watching 'Northwest Passage.'

FLASH! For the first time in history of the institution, John 'Jug' West returned on time for opening of school after Spring furlough. Not only that . . . but he was also two days early. Congratulations, John!

Says Lt. Evans

SALINA, Kansas, April 26th. (SJP)—The grey-clad cadets of the Military Academy marched into enemy territory, thrust out in two mighty flanking movements and executed a well-timed "Blitzkrieg," ala Adolph Hitler . . . almost. Military problem which appeared on the drill curriculum for that day was carrying the white two story farm house one mile north of the school . . . unfortunately said territory was occupied by one poor unsuspecting farmer and wife, a dog (who during the entire period of operations protested loudly), some half dozen cats, and a flock of chickens. The problem was further complicated by the steep banks of Dry creek and rocky terrain unsuitable for walking.

Disinterested bystanders saw a mighty mobilization in progress at Thomas Park but ceased observations in favor of a fine dogfight at the corner of 9th and Euclid streets. Here, however, officers received instructions and quickly moved to point of attack. Original plan of battle was that first Platoon was to proceed up a little gully on the east, there to converge in a nutcracker movement with the second Platoon who would cover more difficult terrain, then flank from the West.

First Platoon moved to the scene of operations with no hitch, only casualty that of Corporal Pate who misjudged either distance or timing and failed to (Continued on page 8, Col. 3)

Simpson Directs Work

Lettermen Present Astronomical Theme

ALWAYS the highlight of social affairs during the school year is the lettermen's dinner and dance, scheduled this year for April 16th. And for one member of the school faculty, (namely Captain Paul Simpson) the two weeks immediately preceding that date resolve themselves into a time in which eating, sleeping, and the normal processes of life receive not even secondary consideration. For during the past ten years of his service here each of these has seen the interior of the gym miraculously and beautifully transformed into a kaleidoscopic setting of sheer beauty.

When asked which of the themes seemed to him the finest, the Captain immediately gave credit to another.

"I believe we achieved our nicest effect the year Jewel Naylor planned the design," he stated, "After the dance, those who heard of the beauty of the place drove here from Hutchinson and elsewhere to see what we had accomplished."

Had you been fortunate enough to step inside of the school gym as did your wandering (and wondering) reporter on the nite of April 10th, chances are that you would have emerged thinking that you had stumbled into engineering college or astronomy lab. Workmen draped over scaffolds, ladders . . . carefully moving into place a section of blue paper eighty foot long six feet wide. Others with pastepots, tinsel being scattered over (Continued on page 8, Col. 1)

THAT growth and progress have been central theme of the school year is attested by a general survey conducted by members of the Skirmisher staff. After counting noses and checking against last year's records, an enrollment increase of 9 is shown. The scholastic honor roll shows a sizeable increase, and also revealed is the fact that though there are more detention classes, fewer flunks on four weeks accounts. The renaissance spirit likewise spread to the Athletic dep't. records of both Football and Basketball showing much improvement over those of '38-39. Though regarded as a minor sport, fencing interest has been high and shows the Kaydets winning their share of the matches. After several years abstinence, Baseball has again made its appearance on the sport curriculum. Seven contests with neighboring High Schools have been scheduled. Junior School track interest is high, and indications are that the annual spring invitation meet will be bigger and better than previous affairs.

Safety measures are the addition of a nite watchman to the family of employees, and installation of a new fire siren.

A welcome sight to returning cadets was the completely remodeled Q. N. finished throughout in white oak. Innovation is the appearance of the room, experimental to determine the practical construction of barrack rooms. Refinishing the gym walls in white and adoption of a new color scheme on the floor add much to its attractiveness.

For the 7th and 8th grades, a new class room has facilitated ease of study and recitation. The library boasts many new acquisitions, most notable "The Pageant of America" pictorial history of the nation's progress.

Much re-arranging of seats, opening of two new beautifully decorated windows, plus installation of a public address system has featured chapel improvements.

The spirit of progress has made itself known in the office via addition of a sys- (Continued on page 8, Col. 2)

Alumni Survey Shows That Grads Succeed Paper Will Attempt to Build Stronger "Alumni Dept" Will Add Cadet as Alumni Editor to Staff

SINCE mid-term of last year when the present staff retired Captain Brown from his many years of active duty as faculty sponsor of this paper, the alumni have been neglected. Unfortunate, but true. But now that we've learned a little about the work, be informed of our intent to keep in step with your every move . . . if you'll only tell us about them! Alumni . . . the school and faculty, your friends of yesteryear, all are greatly interested in your activities. So keep us informed . . . and we'll inform your friends!

Initial step of the campaign for greater alumni news was a complete check of living alumni and old boys via a printed card. The response was quite pleasing . . . and the staff takes this means of thanking all who returned information. Especially do we appreciate the work of Mac Abbot of Belleville, for sending in information concerning 25 old boys.

The survey of the old boys reveals many interesting facts . . . to wit: That the great percent were graduated from a College or University . . . that many of them are associated with Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternities. And that a large number are affiliated with, and hold high rating in the Masonic lodge. But unfortunately for the future prospects of the school, most children seem to be girls . . . we ask you, is this loyalty?

Survey of old boys reveals that men from St. John's continued with their education and were graduated from many Colleges and Universities throughout the land. And that the school has supplied leaders in many fields, in the better professions, in public life, in the Military. St. John's is proud of the record her men have made. Obviously, "guided growth" at the school guided lives into proper channels.

To continue with a good Alumni dep't. in the paper will necessitate an occasional card or letter from each of you, so in the event that you have knowledge of some old boy not mentioned in this issue, send us information you may have about him . . . your letters are always welcome. And we'll do our part!

It will ever be a part of the policy of the present progressive administration of the institution to retain those pleasant contacts with former students. And we know that if all of you could visit the campus and see the changes that have come about in the last three years you would fully appreciate work that has been done. Our goal . . . to carry on in building a greater St. John's . . . a school that you are justly proud to have attended!

The Skirmisher Advocates

Cultivation of the ideal that honesty, reverence, courtesy, scholarship, sportsmanship and friendliness are traits of the true Cadets of St. John's.

Continuation of the high spirit of morale of the corps.

Cooperation of every cadet and faculty member for a happy and profitable school year.

Intensification of loyalty and school spirit.

Return to the athletic prestige we once held.

TO OUR ALUMNI —

Fifty three years ago, in September, 1887, St. John's Military School first opened its doors to students. From Alma Mater today we send salutations and best wishes to all her great army of alumni. We want you to know that St. John's Military is still holding high those ideals of education and training which were formulated by Bishop Thomas when this institution was founded. The success of her hundreds of sons has attested to the benefits derived by attendance here.

This issue of the Skirmisher will tell you a great deal about the school and your fellow alumni; but only those who replied to our questionnaire are listed. It is our request that if you have knowledge of an "old boy" that we do not have on our list you send us his name and address with any comments that you may wish to make as to work, honors, education after leaving St. John's, etc. It is the goal of the Skirmisher to locate all "old boys." We are holding many copies of this edition in reserve, so that in the event we receive addresses of boys now missing from our files, we can promptly send a copy of this paper. You will receive another edition of the Skirmisher this year, the Commencement issue.

We welcome your interest in the school. Any request for information regarding the school summer camp, the school, address of your former classmates will be promptly and cheerfully answered. We realize the value of active alumni interest in the school, its plans and growth.

The great objective of this paper is to be a constructive force in the building of a greater St. John's. And we know that you Alumni share this ideal with us. It is our wish that you recommend to us prospective students, for with the opening of our Junior School building next fall we hope to see a truly great enrollment increase. Few alumni services to the institution command higher appreciation. Feel assured that in helping us build, the alumni who exerts his efforts in behalf of the school will earn the lasting gratitude of the Academy for his rendition of a vastly important service; and in his personal satisfaction of a good job well done.

Eyes Right!

WITH less than 15 days of actual military left, the Corps needs much time spent on close order drill.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

Ever notice how you will stand up PART of the time? Why not stand up ALL the time?

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

Commencement Week brings many parents and visitors. Lets show them a portion of what we have learned. This applies to cleanliness of rooms, grounds, military courtesy, and that genuine hospitality that the Corps this year has been congratulated for showing.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

We heard a secret the other day. We overheard Lt. Evans telling his "little sergeant" to have plenty of ammunition on hand for Saturday afternoon of Commencement week. We heard too, that an attack and defense problem "might" be held at that time.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

How those "secrets" leak out. We also heard that the annual spring encampment will be a radical departure from the others. This one will include much maneuvering. What would you think of a night problem in attack and defense? Major Clem and Lt. Evans have selected a site that affords available cover for the two types of problems.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

And also, fellas, that camp is going to include all the rifle firing you want. The School has insured ample supplies of both .22 and .30 caliber ammunition. Just think how grand it will be to fire to your heart's content.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

Is there a man in the Corps who has not heard Lt. Evans say "these fundamentals will serve you well if the United States becomes involved in a conflict." We've heard that so many times we're now beginning to believe it ourselves.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

The best one we've seen for a long time is the one Tom Lotker pulled on the upper school the other day. Tom captured three scouts of the first platoon before they had a chance to reconnoiter and send back their information.

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

Your editor knows of three medals which will be given on that Sunday afternoon of Commencement Week. All you have to do to get one is to be the best corporal, or the best in the upper or lower school drill down, or be the best bugler. Speaking of the latter reminds us that those "windjammers" get a break. They get us out of bed seven days a week too early. And now one of them gets a medal for doing it!

Keep your head up and your shoulders back.

SPEAKER OF THE ANNUAL LETTERMEN'S BANQUET, GENE JOHNSON, COACH OF KANSAS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

"SPORTSMANSHIP, loyalty, and the will to win," said Gene Johnson, internationally famous coach of Kansas Wesleyan, "these are the three great qualities an athlete must have. If I can develop a team of men with these three factors, we'll win games. A team without them will accomplish nothing . . . nor will they derive any benefit from athletics."

Johnson will be remembered as the man who coached the American Olympic Basketball team to world's championship in 1936 at the Olympic games in Germany. He told of various interesting events during the games, and also commented briefly on his experiences playing in Old Mexico on a "barnstorming" tour.

Lettermen were pleased to have as their guest Bishop Mize, associated many years with the school and with hundreds of boys who attended. The Bishop spoke briefly to the group, pointed out that those present seemed rather young to him, inasmuch as he recognized members of the "third generation" among the guests.

Master of Ceremonies at the affair was Captain William Brown, who reminisced of his experiences through several years with Cadets present. Others who appeared on the program were Major Clem, Sup't of the School, and Coach Sanders, who awarded certificates of merit to lettermen. LETTERMEN honored this year are Jack Tissaw, Chadron, Neb.; Bob Davis, Center, Colorado; Hugh Irelan, Goodland, Kansas; Floyd Lotker, Oberlin, Kansas; Clyde Carroll, Russell, Kansas; Bill Lucas, Wichita, Kansas; Sherman Hicks, Rock Springs, Wyoming; Ernest Moore, Wichita, Kansas; Cy Bradford, Eureka, Kansas, all Seniors. Underclassmen include Clem Gibbs, Topeka; Paul Riley, Pratt; Cowan Eastham, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Norman Manley, and John Pearson both of La Junta, Colorado; Fred Pate, Denver, Colorado; Bob Hickman, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Bob Sanders, Republican City, Nebraska; John West, Hominy, Oklahoma; Joe Wortman, Wichita.

Fencers Drop Season's Opener to Quakers 8-1

SHOWING superior form but lacking that certain deftness which can only be acquired through repeated combat, the St. John's Cavaliers lost their first match of the year to the more experienced swordsmen of Friends University in Wichita.

The meet took place on Friday, Feb. 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the St. John's gymnasium with many visitors from town present.

Captain Ernest Moore lost the first bout to Jack Whitesell by the close margin of five touches to three. Hicks, who until a month ago never had a foil in his hand accredited himself surprisingly well against Ferris of Wichita, losing by the same score.

Next came the bout between Rea, the Friends' Captain, and Hickman. Hickman although he entered the gym on crutches favoring a recently sprained ankle, carried the bout to Rea with a great energy, twice driving the Quaker Captain

Four Lettermen Return For 41 Cage Team

Team Betters Last Year's Record

Next Year's Schedule to Be Heavier

AFTER getting away to a slow start, the Cadet Cagers changed style in mid-season, adopted the "Fire Department" style of play, and from that time started a Renaissance that overpowered teams who had previously rapped defeats onto the orange and black club.

In tournament play the team defeated Assaria to move to the second round, there to lose to a strong Sacred Heart team who moved through all other competition to win the trophy.

Jack Tissaw, Chadron, served as captain of this year's club. Lettermen include Hicks, Lucas, Sanders, Manley, Bradford, Hickman, Eastham, Carroll, Davis I, and manager Joe Wortman.

Returning are Eastham, Manley, Hickman and Sanders, who make prospects for a winning team next year seem bright. Showing of Hall Good, who enrolled during the middle of the season warns that he will be among those present when the game suits are passed out.

According to Coach Sanders, next year's schedule will carry approximately six more contests than were played this year. The schedule is not yet complete.

Cadet Sluggers Win in Tri-State Tourney

LARGEST in history of the sport was the turnout for boxing this year. As in previous years, Emanuel Aronis, former trainer of Jack Dempsey and manager of other "name" boxers, coached the squad.

High spot of the season was the entry in the Tri-State tourney held at Memorial hall. Cadets in this meet who gathered honors were Bob Davis, former Golden Glove champ, and Paul Riley, who made his debut into the ranks of the leather-pushers at this time. Davis knocked out Lloyd Daniels of Salina in the first round; Riley decisioned Joe Miller of Newton. Though they did not win their bouts, Jim Cook, Tarkio, Missouri lost a close decision to Tillie McGlothorn of McPherson, as did Blair Watson, St. John's flyweight entry, who dropped his match to Jack Aman of Salina.

The Skirmisher takes this means of thanking Mr. Aronis for his interest and instruction given the boxing team.

off the strip. Rea won however, 5-2. Whitesell beat Hicks, 5-3.

Then followed a particularly hard fought battle between Ferris and Hickman. Ferris finally came out on the long end with a score of 5-3.

With the loss of this bout went St. John's hope of winning the match, as the visitors had a majority of the maximum number of bouts in their win column. Nevertheless, the very next bout between the two captains, Moore and Rea, was the most hotly contested of the evening, Moore losing to Rea 5-4. Riley was substituted for Hickman, who was now limping badly, and dropped five straight points to Whitesell.

Moore then chalked up St. John's single win by out-touching Ferris 5-2. Henderson, substituting for Hicks in the last bout, showed excellent form and a very aggressive style for a beginner, but lost to the university captain 5-2. This ended the meet, Friends University winning by the score of 8 bouts to 1.

Junior School Invitational Meet to Expand

Invitations To 72 Schools

St. John's Juniors Winner Last Year, Will Defend Their Title

THE St. John's annual invitational Junior School track meet to be held on April 27, promises to be the biggest and best in the history of the event. Invitations have been sent to seventy-two schools in eight counties in an attempt to make the competition keener. Based on past performances, it is expected that Kipp, Gypsum, Assaria, Brookville and St. John's, the defending champions, will hold the spotlight for Saline County teams.

Point winners for St. John's in last year's meet, who will compete again this year are—Pade, Clem, Boehnke, Schoeb and Miller. Other St. John's men who are expected to place in this year's meet are Walton, Shelley, York, Guibert, Marshall, Hopka, and Smyth.

Cavaliers Ride to Wichita to Avenge Earlier Defeat

THE St. John's Military School fencing team, which lost its opening match of the season to Friends University, redeemed its reputation by a decisive victory over the Wichita Y. M. C. A. with a score of 6-3 bouts.

The "Cavaliers" won their first five bouts without much difficulty, the only close encounter being between Hicks of St. John's and Durkin of Wichita. Hicks winning by a single touch. Durkin's attack was spectacular, involving a drop to the floor and a "submarine" lunge.

At the end of the fifth bout, this being the majority of the bouts, St. John's had the match "on ice" and their coach, the Rev. John Moore, who is also the school chaplain, put in substitutes for the next two bouts. These were lost by Cadets Guibert and Shelley to Freeman and Durkin respectively. Hicks dropped the eighth bout to Freeman by a score of 5-4. Hickman won the last bout of the evening 5-2 winning two of his points by driving his opponent, Bowden, off the fencing strip.

After the spring vacation the cadets fenced a double header in Wichita. Lost to the Wichita East High School "Blue Guardsmen" in the afternoon and defeated the "Lightning Foils," a young business men's club, in the evening.

Baseball is Spring Sport

Drop Opener to Kanopolis, But Gain Moral Victory

Coach Satisfied With Showing in Early Season

AFTER an absence of many years, Baseball was this season revived as the spring sport. Approximately twenty hopefuls have reported to Coach Sanders and each afternoon are working out on the school diamond, taking out kinks, clouting the ball around the lot, fielding fast ones. Of this group only three men have previously played any baseball . . . Hall Good, Bob Sanders, Jack Tissaw. Rookies who seem promising are 3rd baseman George Stone, Bob Davis who at present is holding down the first sack assignment, outfielder Norman Manley. Hurlers are Jack Tissaw, Bob Hickman, Bill Lucas, Hall Good. Cy Bradford is behind the bat, since Clyde Carroll suffered a severe muscle injury earlier last week. Carroll will be back in the lineup by the time this goes to press. Squad members include Dutch Irelan, Ernie Moore, Horace Walpote, Blair Watson, Fred Pate, Paul Riley, George Frederick, Guy Henderson, Cowan Eastham, John Pearson.

The team took a moral victory from Kanopolis in the first fray of the season; Tissaw pitched good ball, allowed few hits.

"I am quite pleased with our showing thus far," said Coach Sanders, "if the boys continue to work as faithfully as they have there is no reason why we can not turn in a creditable season. Since this is our first team in many years, the very best that we can hope for is a .500 per cent season. Too many inexperienced men. But we'll keep right on plugging, have a lot of fun, and we'll improve."

Melodrama, Money and Music are Features "Quiz Nite"

KNOWLEDGE paid dividends to many Kaydets as they participated in the "Professor Quiz" program sponsored by the school just before spring furlough. Prize winners were: Cadets and dates group, Miss Virginia Sealey; Ladies group, Miss Bonnie Francis; Cadet Officers group, Bob Davis; Biography, Bob Hickman. Several of the Junior School men won prizes in open competition.

A short playlet "The return of little Nell" presented in the best old fashioned mellerdramer style was well received by the Corps. Cast as follows: Little Nell, Bob Davis; Si Slick, Clyde Carroll; Villian, Bill Lucas; Officer, Dutch Irelan; Accompanist was Henry Ruby. "The Vacuum Cleaners" Clem Gibbs, Jim Cook, George Stone, sang ditties appropriate to school personalities, while last of the stunts was staged by Paul Riley and George Schreiber, who presented a trick shooting act.

Another "Quiz Nite" of shorter length will be held in the near future.

Every Dog Has His Day--So Do Rats!

DAYS may come and go . . . but April first, legendary day of 'All Fools' will linger a while in the memory of several new boys. Elevated to the rank of commanding officers and "Kings for a day" were: Earl Bruce and Ralph Stevens, Cadet Captains; John Pearson, Cadet 1st Lieut.; And 2nd Lieutenants, Guy Henderson, Harold Litz, Elwood Sellens, Bob Sanders, Hall Good.

Reversing the usual procedure, Faculty members entered into the spirit of the day by waiting tables, (Some class Captain Tolbert has!) while new boys acted as head of table.

In many classes, Students acted as instructors and the regular teachers observed. Strange as it may seem, no classes took examination. But in all seriousness, the new officers performed creditably at retreat parade. Other new boys than those previously named took over the NCO duties, and here too, performance was good.

Apparent throughout the performance of the new men was the fact that a fine understanding of military fundamentals had been absorbed, a shining testimonial to the efficiency of that department.

S MEN TURN ENGINEERS

myriads of stars . . . The big top is going up!

Murals of Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse and all the friends of Disneydom grace the sidewalls, the work of Mr. Gilbert, Salina artist.

Decoration of the gym this year isn't just an orgy of hanging gaudy colored strips of crepe paper . . . it's an engineering feat. An arc of fifty feet extending the length of the gym supports a blue-vaulted ceiling whereon appear the various constellations, Orion, the dipper, etc.

And in case you were not privileged to view the finished product at the lettermen's dance . . . the stars won't move from their positions a particle by commencement time . . . despite the rules you may have learned about movement of heavenly bodies. And too, we're sure you'll get a kick out of the "Murals."

To you old boys it should be just another good reason why you will be with us on commencement week end . . . right?

Buffalo Hunt, 1940 Version

SHADES of the old West lived in Salina again recently when a group of five St. John's hunters staged a Buffalo hunt and bagged two of the shaggy beasts on the Robert Muir farm, seven miles northwest of Salina. The party consisted of Col. W. L. Ganssle, former Sup't. of St. John's, Ralph Hiller, President of the Board of Trustees, Lt. George L. Evans, Commandant of the school, Captain H. O. Tolbert, Bursar, who did his shooting with his camera, (witness above) and Cadet Jack Tissaw. Muir owned the Buffalo.

Death sentence was imposed on the huge animals because of their ability to hurdle six foot fences with the greatest of ease. Muir could not keep them in the pasture and thought it best for the safety of his neighbors to call in the hunters.

Unable to approach the wary game on foot, the five hunters took a page from Adolph Hitler's book . . . motorized. After enlisting the aid of a truck the group drove close enough to open fire. They were using the old style army rifle, caliber 30. Pitted against one of the original Americans armed with bow and arrow, the great beasts might have caused this story to carry a different ending . . . but smokeless powder put too much on the ball. They couldn't take it.

The 1940 big game hunt was no new experience for either Col. Ganssle or Mr. Hiller, both of whom were members of the executioner's squad who dispatched Snyder, when that big circus elephant ran amuck in Salina 17 years ago. And in one of the older issues of the school catalogue both can be seen perched contentedly atop the carcass of the huge quadruped, smiling in triumph. How many of you old boys can remember this incident?

PROGRESS IS KEYNOTE

tem of inter-office communication. One outlet in the study hall has been the nemesis of many a whispering cadet . . . for the instrument is so powerful that a whisper on the opposite side of the room is quite audible. (Page the German Gestapo.)

100 young trees are being transplanted on the campus proper and additional flowers and shrubs have been planted.

Winter's terrors of cold and blow were as naught in the gym . . . for the entire corps will testify to the efficiency of the newly installed furnace.

The same gym echoed to martial strains for the first time in many a moon . . . for a pep band, organized anew in January added zest to basketball games.

Closed since depression years, doors of the Junior School building will open next year, provided enrollment gain next September is as great as it has been in the past two years.

CADET SALIENT FAILS

clear said creek, fell into water. After waiting for some time for the second platoon to make appearance, Prime Minister Evans recalled these troops, thinking that perhaps the second platoon was attempting to duplicate in a minor way the feat of the "Lost Battalion." During the retreat to mobilization point, Corporal Jug West wore six blisters on his left foot, thereby establishing some new kind of a record. Private Walpole, who also made acquaintance with the creek, threatened to desert, saying he wished to have no part of navy maneuvers.

Thinking to save time in said retreat, Lt. Bradford determined to take a short cut across a big ditch, whereupon Private Marshall, not to be outdone by either West or Pate, promptly fell into the ditch and time had to be taken out to revive him. On returning to Thomas Park, the platoon was informed that a search party was out hunting for Lt. R. (Champ) Davis and his command. They found him gesturing wildly, the cap gun of a Junior School boy in one hand, muttering unintelligibly some phrase pertinent to Sherman. In a nearby field a farmer, thinking of Quantrell and his guerillas, had halted his cultivating and was scratching his head in bewilderment.

No reason for the failure of the "coup" was given.

With swollen feet and empty stomachs the Company slowly marched to the safety of the barracks . . . happy in contemplation of evening mess.

Maj. Clem Ordained Deacon at Ceremony in School Chapel

IN the first formal ceremony of his accession to the Priesthood, Major R. L. Clem was ordained a Deacon in the school chapel Friday, April 5.

The student body, clergymen, officials of the church and a few personal friends were present at the impressive service.

Bishop Robert Nelson Spencer, Kansas City, Celebrated the Holy Communion. Presenter of the ordination as well as preacher of the morning was Dean Hewitt B. Vinnedge, rector of Christ Cathedral, Salina. Dean Vinnedge told of the significance of the laying on of hands, the unbroken Apostolic succession. The Rev. R. H. Mize, Jr., Priest in charge of the Associate Mission, Hays, was reader of the litany, and Rev. John F. Moore, Jr., chaplain of St. John's, master of ceremonies. Alan Clem, son of Major Clem, was crucifer. Captain Paul Simpson, organist, and accompanied the school choir.

In celebration of the event, a school holiday was declared.

Aviator Addresses Student Body

INTERESTING was the lecture on April 2nd given to the Cadet Corps by Lt. Swope, pilot for Transcontinental Air Lines of Kansas City. Math students and would-be pilots opened eyes and ears wider as the speaker demonstrated charts and maps used in flying, told of techniques used in plotting courses. Genuine interest was shown as he recounted many exciting experiences incurred during his life as a pilot. Afterward, he answered many questions asked by the older cadets who are interested in aviation. Attention paid the speaker was evidence of appreciation of his remarks.

On leaving Salina for his return flight to Kansas City, the Lieut. zoomed low over the school three times, waggled his wings and disappeared in the distance . . . leaving behind an admiring audience of Cadets with upturned faces.

PROUD owners of new automobiles are Lt. Evans, who sports the '40 edition of a coupe by Chevrolet; Captain Tolbert, who is still faithful to Hudson and has a new Coach; Major Clem (of course it's a Buick)! and Cadet Amos King who was presented with a fine new Chevrolet coupe while home on Spring Furlough. Some present, we'd say!
