Furlough Plans Feature Fun And Food

by Phil Hargrove and Steve Erb

Cadets from St. John's Military School will scatter to the four winds for the Christmas holidays.

Cadets have planned many activities among which eating and sleeping seem to be the most popular.

Plans made by some Cadets include:

John O'Loughlin, Omaha, Neb. — "Eat, sleep and be merry."

Mike Vaughan, Denver, Colo. — "I plan to have my best friend come up from Arizona after Christmas and spend a week with me. I also plan to go roller-skating and take in a few movies."

Crack Squad To Perform At Inaugural

The St. John's Crack Drill Squad will give a special drill at the Inaugural Ball following the Inauguration of Frank B. Morrison as Governor of the state of Nebraska.

The squad, under the command of Lt. Tom Banes, will be the featured entertainment of the evening at the Ball to be held Thursday, Jan. 5, in the Municipal Auditorium in Lincoln, Neb.

Trustee Elected Governor of Nebraska

A member of the St. John's board of trustees and the father of two former St. John's Cadets was elected governor of the state of Nebraska during the recent general election.

Frank B. Morrison, Lincoln, Neb., is the new governor-elect of Nebraska. His sons, Frank Jr., "Biff" and Jon, both are former St. John's students.

Biff is now a law student at Denver University and Jon, a Marine veteran, is a freshman at the University of Nebraska.

Morrison was born at Golden, Colo., was graduated from Kansas State University, Manhattan, and took his law degree at the University of Nebraska.

Praises St. John's CAP Facilities

A group of aerospace educators and representatives of service organizations examined the Civil Air Patrol facilities of St. John's Military School on Nov. 22.

The group of eight persons met with cadets and members of the faculty. They inspected the facilities of the school, reviewed the retreat parade and were given a precision drill demonstration by cadets.

The group flew to SAFB from Oklahoma City where they had inspected facilities. They left Salina the following morning for Mitchell AFB, Long Island, CAP headquarters.

Interested In St. John's

Lt. Col. W. Tom Ward deputy chief of staff of the northeastern region of the CAP, said the group was particularly interested in St. John's because it is the only school in the United States which offers a full CAP program for high school-age students.

"The program is outstanding," Col. Ward said. "Nothing in the CAP program has a comparison with what is done here by Colonel Clem. We are very impressed."

The group was also received by the Rt. Rev. Arnold M. Lewis, Bishop of the Episcopal District of Salina. Bishop Lewis was a roommate of Colonel Ward when the two were in college.

In addition to members of the CAP staff, the group included representatives of Zonta International, a womens' professional organization founded by Amelie Earhart, and Kiwanis International which uses CAP work as its featured youth activity.

Others in the group were Dr. James E. Conlon, aerospace educator of the Rhode Island wing of the CAP, and the Rev. Nicholas M. Feringa, headmaster of St. Paul's School, Garden City, Long Island.

Happy Birthday! CAP

When the need for civilian air support arose 19 years ago just before the "day of infamy" at Pearl Harbor, Civil Air Patrol was formed almost overnight to meet the emergency. Predictions were that it would die just as quickly, when hostilities ceased.

The exact opposite came true.

There were too many ardent, aviation-minded men and women of considerable stature to allow such an organization like CAP to drift into limbo.

Now starting its 20th year, this Air Force auxiliary is a substantial, dues-paying volunteer flying organization in over 1900 communities with 70,000 adults and teenagers in 52 wings. Daily somewhere in the vastness of the continent, search and rescue and emergency missions in the air and on the ground are in progress.

—President Sends Greetings—

It is a pleasure to join in the observance of the nineteenth anniversary of Civil Air Patrol.

Born in the early days of World War II, this volunteer organization has grown from a handful of pilots to a nationwide civilian auxiliary of the United States Air Force.

In addition to providing invaluable assistance to civil and military aviation in roles of aerial search, emergency communications, disaster relief and support of civil defense, the CAP is making an outstanding contribution to the nation through its aerospace education program.

On this occasion, I am delighted to add my congratulations and best wishes to the members of the Civil Air Patrol.

Our Heritage

A short time ago an event took place which is very important to the welfare of the United States and every person living in the United States. It was a presidential election.

The election says one thing to the whole world. It says—"we the people of the United States are free. We have a freedom to vote for whom we want."

Think of the other freedoms we have—freedom of religion, freedom of speech, and freedom of the press. All of these things go to make up the free and wonderful country we live in.

Every four years we elect a man not only to enforce laws but to maintain our freedom. He is a man that we have chosen of our own free will and is a man we know will keep the promise made in these words, "And government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall never perish from the earth."—Steve Erb

High Praise Received From Gen. Griffin

High praise was accorded St. John's Military School and its Cadet Corps by Maj. Gen. Thomas N. Griffin, commander 16th Army Corps, following his visit to the school on October 22.

Gen. Griffin said in a letter to Col. R. L. Clem, school rector, "I feel you have an outstanding institution with an outstanding faculty and student body. I would not hesitate to recommend the school for the education of the boy of today for I feel sure they will be brought up to manhood in an atmosphere of good breeding, self-discipline and with a fine regard for God and Country."

You really have a fine Cadet Corps at St. John's. I was most favorably impressed by the Cadets' military bearing, courtesy, neatness and by the outstanding military review which they presented for me."

Two Will Take NROTC Tests

Two St. John's Cadets will take the Navy College Aptitude Test to qualify for Naval Officer College Training program scholarships.

Jack Kaine will take the test in Topeka and Merritt Morrison in Hutchinson on Saturday, December 10.

A St. John's graduate, Dave McClanahan, class of '57, is attending the University of Idaho on a NROTC scholarship.

Military Tests

Military tests were given to all Cadets November 14 and 15. Written tests over general knowledge of military matters were given the first day. Oral tests were given on instruction of Cadets in close order drill on the following day.

Christmas In States For Venezuelan Cadet

Cadet Alvaro Power, Caracas, Venezuela, has had to change his plans for Christmas furlough because of the current uprisings in his country.

Because of political implications, it is feared that Power would not be permitted to leave the country again if he returned home for the holidays.

However, Power will not have to stay in Salina. Mr. and Mrs. James Hibbs, parents of Cadet Kurt Hibbs, have invited him to spend Christmas with them in Ames, Iowa.

Three other Venezuelan Cadets, Kevin Sanchez, Raul Olivo and Enrique Urdaneta plan to return to their homes, however. All are expected to return to St. John's following the holidays.
