VOLUME LI

APRIL 24, 1967

SALINA, KANSAS

NUMBER 7

Work Starts On Spencer Cadet Center

Denver Patron's Gift Makes Center Possible

Construction has started on the new Spencer Cadet Center on the campus of St. John's Military School.

The St. John's Foundation, with the consent of the School's Board of Trustees, let the contract and construction began April 10.

A financial grant from John Galen Spencer, Littleton, Colo., for $21,000 will underwrite the cost of the construction of the basement area of the building. This area will house a 6-point rifle range, armory, small arms locker, storage space and ROTC offices as well as seating room for 50-75 spectators. The Spencer's son, John Benjamin, is a SJMS graduate. Mr. Spencer is a former Trustee of the School.

The first floor will be used as a recreation center with pool tables, ping pong tables, a snack bar, and an area to be used for School parties and movies.

The footings will be strong enough to support a second floor if one should be needed in the future plans of the School.

The Center will be of red brick to harmonize with the other structures on campus. There will be no windows and the building will be centrally air conditioned.

The 32 by 120-foot building will be located north of the present gym and south of Nichols Dining Hall.

The project was undertaken by the St. John's Foundation at its Thanksgiving meeting. The Foundation has pledged $25,000 toward the project.

Busboom and Rauh construction Company of Salina has the contract and it is hoped the building will be completed by Aug. 1.

Estimated cost is $50,000.

Make Plans Now!

Commencement invitations and schedules will be mailed to parents and patrons in the next few days. Parents, however, are being urged to make their reservations at Salina motels now for the weekend of May 19-21. A track meet is scheduled in Salina for the same weekend; so SJMS patrons are being asked to make plans as early as possible.

We urge your support of the motels who help support "The Skirmisher" and the yearbook by their advertising.

Officer Named For 1967-68

A commissioned officer has been assigned to the ROTC detachment at St. John's Military School in September of this year. He is Maj. Charles W. Buttermore III of the U. S. Army Infantry. He is currently serving in Vietnam.

His assignment has been confirmed and arrival is expected in early September. He was to have reported in April but his tour of duty in Vietnam was extended for six months.

Lt. Col. Paul H. Kellogg, Commandant, served as the SAI this year because of the lack of qualified personnel for assignment.

M/Sgt. Tom Watson, the non-commissioned officer assigned to the School this year, will return for the '67-'68 term.

Battalion Review Is Highlight of Inspection

Final plans were made in preparation for the Federal Inspection of the junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program at St. John's Military School, April 19.

The high point of the day was the Battalion Review at 1:55 p.m. on Perkins Field. Local dignitaries were invited as special guests. The public was also invited to see the ceremonies.

Invited to attend were H. R. Salmans, Henry Neely, Arnold J. Lehmann, the Rev. Donald Weber, J. R. Rauh, Norris Olson, John Woody, Dr. Lloyd Schurr, Dr. D. Arthur Zook, Jim McKim, Ray Haggart, C. J. Wertz, G. N. Waddell, the Rt. Rev. William Davidson, Jim Trickett, Tom Aird and Leslie Matthews.

The inspecting officer was Lt. Col. Benjamin H. Purcell,

The three are participants in the International Education project at Emporia State Teachers College.

Kheikh Sesay is a boys' boarding school supervisor in Sierra Leone, Tom Goe and William Saytarkon are Liberian school administrators. They visited classes, talked to Cadets and had interviews with faculty and staff members.

LCDR. H. E. Nuss, Director of Studies, hosted the group.

The review consisted of the formation and inspection of troops, awards ceremony, march in review and inspector's comments. The troops were armed but members of "C" company did not carry rifles. Officers carried swords.

Cadet Bugler Gets Thanks from Veterans

Cadet Charles Peacock has received a letter and a picture thanking him for his participation in the Veterans of World War I convention held recently in Salina.

Cadet Peacock played Taps as a part of the program at the convention.

The letter reads: "Salina Barracks and Auxiliary No. 715 wishes to thank you for a wonderful service rendered to our departed buddies. We count Taps as a last prayer. It is very sacred to us. We hope you will cherish this token as we do. And again thanks a million."

Cadet buglers frequently play Taps at funerals for veterans and for other military functions in Salina.

Drill Units Editorial Brings Letters

From a Crack Squad C. O. . . . .

"I have just read your editorial on the demise or potential demise of the Crack Squad. I couldn't have been more shocked if you had told me Hazel ran off with the Cadets' allowance fund.

"My best plea for the continuation of the Squad with its great traditions can, perhaps, be best exemplified by giving my early impressions as a new Cadet and later as the Captain.

"The organization was completely self-directed (by Cadets), tradition was motivating and the catalyst was comradeship and mutual respect.

"Rank was subordinate. As a lieutenant, my brother led the squad while captains and majors took their role as members. There was no loss of mutual respect in these circumstances.

"There was always tremendous competition among the try-outs the first of each year. Cadets were quite willing to give up the one single hour of free time of the day after evening mess to practice the drill.

"The esprit de Corps of the squad was best illustrated when, while I was the captain forming the 1955 drill team, I was quite concerned about the tremendous variation in height caused by the tallest of the members (Browning, Hargrove, MacMurray). I asked "Big John" to form the Color Guard. He was one of the best drillers I had ever seen and it represented a real step down for him. I'll never forget his reply: "We'll make the most impressive Color Guard St. John's has ever seen". And they did.

"These impressions plus the knowledge we were good enough to appear half-time at major games, on television at various times and at countless other gatherings made me very proud. I know the School would be losing its greatest source of public relations if the Cadets let it down. But more important the Cadets would be losing the opportunity to participate in one of the greatest student organizations that St. John's has to offer. This year's class has no right nor does any class have the right to abandon a tradition of decades. The Crack Squad is not yours (Class of 1967) to do with as you please—it belongs to all of us who have participated."

Roger A. Bigler
Class of '55
Orinda, Calif.

EDITOR'S NOTE . . . We have received four of the letters received in response to the editorial appearing in the March issue of "The Skirmisher" entitled "Are Drill Squads Units of the Past". Your comments on the subject are welcomed and appreciated. We will print as many of the letters as we can, space permitting.

From a Parent . . . . .

"Surely there is no serious consideration being given to discontinuing either of the Drill Squads. Wally has taken great pride in being a member of the Crack Platoon and I'm sure he is no different from the other boys. At the Thanksgiving program, every boy—whether he participated in one of the Squads or not—was intensely proud of their performance. It was very evident.

"People are sick of the exploiting of cute little teenage girls as baton twirlers, in beauty pageants, etc. It's the military drill squads, which cause the spectators to strain to watch, in their smart uniforms, self disciplined and performing their intricate drills in perfection."

Mrs. Curry
Shawnee Mission, Kansas

From a '64 graduate . . . .

"In answering the question, "Are drill squad units of the past?" I must answer no. The drill teams of St. John's are very important to us in this day and age. We are in the midst of tremendous change. It has become apparent in our government, our music and art, and in every social phase of life that is present today.

"Our government is trying in many different ways to come to the aid of mankind. Such things have come about as the Peace Corps, the Job Corps, the war in Vietnam and the explorations made to probe outer space. But we still must rely on the principles that this country was conceived upon, and those are expressed in the Constitution of the United States.

"Leadership is essential to the success of any organization, however the role of those being lead is just as important. Without personnel willing to submit themselves to the judgement of one man, then there is no such thing as a leader.

"In our music today, we find different kinds of compositions being thrown up for public approval or disapproval . . . . But we still cling to the old standards which are being added to at a very slow rate. They must survive the element of time, and in so doing they are recorded in our past as good music.

"It is much the same in art . . . . But the ideas that remain through time, such as those of Rembrandt and Picasso, are the ideas that we hang onto for enjoyment and from which to learn.

"I think every possible effort should be made to maintain the existence of the Crack drill teams. Through the years they have become a working and integral part of St. John's Military School and it is the duty of every Cadet within those organizations to carry on the tradition and high standard of performance that has been achieved by the Cadets that went before them.

"Without these units functioning as a representational body of St. John's, the School itself will have lost a valuable heritage.

"People today are very much in need of ideas that will work and these drill teams in their performances are in fact expressions of ideas that do work. There will always be a need for people who can express themselves by their regimental actions. This is something that has been proven by time. Time will also prove the existence of these two drill teams."

From a Recent Grad . . .

"I noticed in the two years that I was in the Crack Squad that no one ever seemed to take practices too seriously, unless we had a public performance breathing down our necks. I think that the decline of the Crack Squad in my senior year was not due to lack of interest but the lack of public performances for which to work. I think that maybe that we felt there was a lack of interest and faith in us by everyone, making us feel that we were less important as a part of the school. This is all I remember from being a member of the squad except for the pride I felt when we did a good job and were appreciated. Whatever it is that's wrong with the drill unit, I don't think doing way with them would help."

St. John's Featured In "Kansas" Magazine

A two-page story about St. John's Military School appears in the latest issue of the "Kansas" magazine published by the Kansas Economic Development Commission. Several pictures of activities at the School accompany the article.

Following are a few excerpts from the article:

"One of the most impressive visits a traveler in Kansas can make is to St. John's Military School at Salina.

"It is a boarding school that uses the military approach of courtesy and discipline to manhood yet tempers this with Christian spiritual values. Add to this the conviction of involvement with church, community and country and it is easy to see why St. John's boys articulate as good citizens, ready to do their share.

"We wish to develop each boy to his fullest capability," notes Col. R. L. Clem, adding that this involved system could only work with small classes. All boys are under supervised study and additional tutoring is done as required for as long as necessary, at least until proper work habits are achieved."

A writer-photographer team was on campus about a year ago gathering material for the article.

Riflemen to Earn School Varsity Letters

The Rifle Team will be re-organized as a varsity sport at the beginning of the 1967-68 school year in September.

Members of the team will be selected on a competitive basis from the most qualified Cadet riflemen in School.

The team will fire a regular schedule with other recognized teams from both private and public school; as well as firing postal and wire matches. Matches will be fired in the new Spencer armory and also at ranges of other schools.

Lt. Col. Paul H. Kellogg, Commandant, said it is hoped the School can have both an A and a B team. The program will meet all criteria set forth by the National Rifle Association and the ROTC program.

It is hoped the team can participate in the "Little Camp Perry" matches at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo. and the Turkey Shoot held at Kansas State University, Manhattan.

The team will be coached by M/Sgt. Tom Watson and he will be assisted by other members of the military staff.

Cadets will earn school monograms for participation just as Cadets earn letters for participation in track, basketball, wrestling or golf.

Lt. Col. Kellogg said that it is anticipated that members of the Rifle Team will also be permitted to participate in other varsity sports.

Wrestling Mat Arrives

A new wrestling mat for use in the varsity wrestling program has arrived according to Lt. Lawrence Dwyer, wrestling coach.

The 34 by 34 feet mat is orange with black boundary lines. The SJMS monogram was painted in the inner circle. The S-Club donated $75 to have the School's crest added to the mat.

Coach Dwyer said the mat is of ensolite and has a 20 gauge vinyl sheet bonded both to the top and bottom surfaces, so both sides can be used. He commented, "I think it is the best looking mat in the state".

Coach Dwyer said he hopes enough boys report for the sport next year, so he can organize both an A and a B team. With two mats available, the two teams could wrestle at the same time and thus eliminate exhibition matches. He said the Kansas Wrestling Coaches Association is recommending the formation of two teams in the schools.

S-Club Initiates 11 Lettermen

Eleven Cadets were accepted as new members of the S-Club during its recent initiation. Only Cadets earning a letter in varsity sports are eligible.

A Slow But Sure Death

(Editor's Note: The following is an essay accepted for publication in the semi-annual anthology, "Young America Speaks.")

At this very moment, in this great nation, thousands upon thousands of human beings are transfixed before that great, chaotic machine, the television. A veritable murderer, a true assassin of time, it sits innocently in every home throughout the world; it sits as a magician, a hypnotist and all encompassing warlock, capable of stealing priceless quantities of life. Having the characteristics of an intoxicating brew, it dulls the senses, captures the mind and tweaks the delicate nerves of imagination. The time goes quickly, seconds mount and existence dwindles, lost to a mad junkyard of wires, metal and tubes.
