ST. JOSEPH'S ADOPTS MILITARY TRAINING

St. John's no longer has the distinction of being the only military school in the state of Kansas. On Sunday October 11 when their new administration building was solemnly dedicated, St. Joseph's College of Hays formally adopted military training in their institution.

The day of the dedication was indeed a memorable one. Many distinguished guests participated in the various ceremonies and services, including the Bishops of Concordia and Wichita, Governor Woodring, Brigadier General M. R. McLean and Staff, and the President of the Kansas State Agricultural College. Major Fritsche, one of the guests, was entertained while in Hays by the Very Rev. Herbert Schehl, President of St. Joseph's College, and acted as aide to the governor.

The first thing on the day's program was the blessing of the new building and campus at 9:30 a. m. This was followed by a Procession and Solemn Pontifical Field Mass with the Bishop of Concordia pontificating.

The civic and patriotic ceremonies took place at 8:00 P. M. The commander of the Hays American Legion presented a flag, Brigadier General M. R. McLean made an address, and then Governor Woodring gave a speech at the conclusion of which he handed out commissions to various officers of the institution.

Following these exercises the St. Joseph's Cadet Corps held retreat at which the school band played. Then came the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament after which a Solemn "Te Deum" was intoned.

The events of the day ended with a formal reception at 6:30 followed by a banquet at which the school quartet and orchestra furnished the music.

MR. TOLBERT IS NEW SCHOOL BOOKKEEPER

Mr. H. O. Tolbert has succeeded Mr. M. R. Smith to the position of bookkeeper at St. John's. After Mr. Smith's resignation a few weeks ago Mrs. Sherman, the Superintendent's secretary, took the duties of this office until a new man could be secured.

Mr. Tolbert who is a young man, is a native of Salina. He graduated from the Salina High School and then entered Kansas Wesleyan University. Following the completion of his course there, he went to Chicago where he served as an accountant for seven years. He recently returned to his old home in this city.

Mr. Tolbert lives with his mother. He drives to and from St. John's in his car, and generally takes the noonday meal in the school dining room.

First Dance of Year Is Colorful Affair

Occasion An Informal One; Gymnasium
Prettily Decorated

The first dance of the year held on the evening of October 23 was a colorful affair. The gymnasium was attractively decorated. Streamers of different colors dropped to the sides of the room from a large beam in the center, and the electric lights covered with artistically carved tissue paper shades gave forth a most dreamy effect. Though the affair was an informal one, the girls in their simple dresses and cadets in their neat service uniforms seemed almost festive against such an attractive background.

The dance started shortly after eight o'clock. This year St. John's plans to start all its dances early and disregard the modern tendency of young people to appear at dances when it really should be the time to go home. As their partners arrived, the cadets met them in the school parlor and escorted them over to the gymnasium.

Jimmy Weaver's orchestra of seven pieces furnished the music. The numbers were mostly one steps and fox trots, but occasionally Major Bagnall called out a circle dance, which tended to liven things up. Several boys from the Junior School presided over the punch bowl and furnished refreshments for the dancers.

Promptly at eleven o'clock the affair came to an end. The boys took their girls home in taxis and were given until midnight to get back to the barracks.

"S" CLUB ORGANIZED BY CADET MAJOR BAGNALL

A new club has recently been organized to take its place among the extra-curricular activities at St. John's. It is known as the "S" club and was originated by Cadet Major Bagnall.

The organization which was created for social purposes has for its charter members the St. John's letter men. The officers are: Bagnall, President; Deppen, Vice-President; Shakespeare, Secretary; and Van Dervelde, Treasurer.

When the winners of letters in this year's football have been announced, new members will be voted in. There is an initiation fee of one dollar, and the dues are fifty cents a month.

Coach T. C. Bishop kindly turned over one room in his quarters for the boys to use as a club room and this has been neatly fitted up. Among other things there are a radio and card tables. Copies of current magazines are kept on hand. Later on in the year the club hopes to hold a number of dances.

Cadets Take Part in Armistice Parade

Observe Minute of Silence at Eleven;
Buglers at Banquet

Classes were held at St. John's as usual on Armistice Day. Due to the fact that the schedule had been broken into so much already during the fall, it was deemed best that a holiday not be granted. A minute of silence was observed at eleven o'clock, ending with the sounding of Taps.

At four o'clock that afternoon the corps of cadets marched in the parade sponsored by the Salina American Legion. The parade which started from Memorial Hall promptly at four o'clock was headed by a number of army officers on horseback who were followed by members of the National Guard, the Salina Municipal Band, the members of the American Legion, and last of all the St. John's cadet corps.

That evening several of the cadet buglers were present at a dinner given by the American Legion in the basement of Memorial Hall. They summoned the legionnaires and their wives to the meal. After everyone had finished, the buglers upon request blew numerous calls and the legionnaires had a sort of competitive contest in trying to hark back to their army days and see if they could not recognize them.

A little later regular Armistice Day exercises were conducted in Memorial Hall. Major Fritsche was the principal speaker of this occasion.

ANNUAL INITIATION IS GIVEN ON HALLOWE'EN

Hallowe'en was indeed an eventful occasion at St. John's. The first part of the evening will long be remembered by the new boys for at this time they received their formal initiation. The ceremonies, surrounded by the greatest secrecy, took place in the gymnasium. The old boys presided, and the teachers and other friends looked on. With palpitating hearts and bated breath the groups of victims approached their doom, but felt more or less reassured to hear shrieks of laughter rather than screams of agony issuing forth from the gym. Major Fritsche had no use for his medical kit which some said he had on hand.

Following the initiation came the big bonfire on the campus. The boys toasted marshmallows, and partook freely of cider and doughnuts. Things were livened up by a battle of music. The boys formed in groups, each trying to drown out the others by its singing. When the fire died down, the crowd dispersed.

BOY SCOUTS ATTEND RALLY AT FT. RILEY

Eighteen members of the St. John's Boy Scout Troop and their scoutmaster attended the big scout rally held at Ft. Riley the middle of October. The journey to the fort, a distance of about sixty miles, was made in the school truck.

The scout troops coming from all over the Jayhawk Area pitched their pup tents on the drill field at Camp Whitside, that part of Ft. Riley where the National Guard holds its annual summer encampment. The scoutmasters bunked in one of the vacant barracks.

Mr. A. A. Stocker, Scout Executive of the Jayhawk Area, and Mr. R. R. Relstab, Field Executive, had general supervision of the rally. Promptly at three o'clock a field meet was held in which many of the troops participated. The Manhattan district came off with the honors in this event.

At retreat that night General Lott, Commander of Ft. Riley, made a few remarks to the boys. Then came supper. Regular army cooks prepared the meals which were served in two of the mess halls.

That night a Council Ring fire was held at which time there were stories, jokes, songs, and stunts. One of the sergeants from the fort had his trained dog demonstrate some tricks. Last of all came moving pictures shown on an improvised screen of the activities at the Brown Memorial Scout Camp last summer, also of the maneuvers of the cavalry at Ft. Riley.

Right after breakfast the next morning a short religious service was held in the large recreation building. Then came inspection, and then a tour of Ft. Riley. Trucks were on hand to take troops having no other means of transportation. The Cooks' and Bakers' School, the stables and riding pavilion, and the aviation field were among the places visited.

After dinner camp was broken, and the equipment was checked up. Then the troops left for home.

The St. Johns scouts had the time of their lives and many expressed the wish that the rally would last a few days longer. They were especially pleased that the Salina district won first place in inspection and received a banner for the same. Cadet Collier acted as bugler for the whole camp and received many compliments on his bugling. A number of the boys during free period rode on some cavalry horses. They made friends with an army sergeant who extended them this courtesy and accompanied them along one of the bridle paths.

Captain Oliver Phillips '31 is working for his brother-in-law who is in the advertising business at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

ORIGIN OF THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving in the United States denotes an annual festival instituted to show proper gratitude to God for the blessings of the closing year. It was intended to celebrate on this day all the bounties of the harvest, the mercies of the year and show fitting recognition of the whole.

As now observed, it may be said to be borrowed from the Jewish Feast of Tabernacles. The Hebrews celebrated a Harvest festival as they felt the fruits of the earth were gifts of Divine Providence, and that it was fitting to express public gratitude for them.

Thanksgiving day differs in many respects from the religious festivals in the Christian churches, though there have been local observances which bear a close resemblance to it. In Holland the anniversary of the deliverance of the City of Leyden was kept as an annual feast of Thanksgiving. In the English church the 5th of November is celebrated in commemoration of the discovery of the Gunpowder plot. The German Lutherans have the custom of Harvest Home with services as well as with feasting. This custom was brought by Germans and Dutch into the United States.

But the American Thanksgiving is historically traced to New England. In 1621, within a year after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, Gov. Bradford, after harvesting of the crops, sent four men out to procure wild fowl that the colony might celebrate in a fitting manner, the gathering of the fruits of their labors. These people with about ninety friendly Indians, among them their greatest king, Massasoit, feasted and gave thanks for three days, on this first Thanksgiving in the new land. Many had been their hardships, for during that first year about half their number had died, but still they offered up praise and thanksgiving and feasted on the wild turkey, the venison, the corn and fruits they had toiled to raise.

In the Massachusetts colonies Thanksgiving was observed from time to time in those early days. Also in New York the Dutch Governors proclaimed a like feast and the English Governors followed suit. Throughout the Revolution, Congress annually recommended a day of Thanksgiving.

In 1795, President Washington issued a call for a National Thanksgiving which was observed on Thursday the 19th day of February. This proclamation established the precedent by which Thursday has always been the day of Thanksgiving. Since 1817 an Annual Thanksgiving has been celebrated in the State of New York. The State of Pennsylvania followed. But the western states were slow in adopting the custom. The southern states, owing to difference in climate and customs did not take kindly to this festival which had originated in New England. Yet in 1858 the Governors of eight southern states sent out proclamations for days of Thanksgiving.

Until the civil war, with the exception of Washington's administration, the custom was confined to the will of the Governors of the States. During the war, President Lincoln frequently appointed special days of Thanksgiving. In 1863 he issued a long proclamation appointing the last Thanksgiving and prayer. Since that year every president of the United States has appointed that day as a National Thanksgiving. Nearly all the Governors of the States follow with proclamations.

In the churches the day has been almost universally observed with public services. The Roman Catholic church gave no official attention to Thanksgiving day until 1885. In 1888 Cardinal Gibbons issued a circular requesting the clergy of Baltimore to honor the festival. Other prelates of the Roman church followed. This has caused a more general observance of Thanksgiving day in the country which is also a legal holiday in all the States of the Union.

CONGRATULATORY

Whenever the stork pays a visit to a family in which there are already one or more children, the heretofore youngest child is said to feel as if his nose were out of joint. No longer is he the baby about whom all the fuss is made; he must play the role of second fiddle to the new arrival. St. John's has for years had the distinction of being the only military school in the state of Kansas. But now this boast can no longer be made. Last month St. Joseph's College in Hays introduced military training into its curriculum.

However, St. John's does not feel like the child with his nose out of joint. On the other hand it welcomes St. Joseph's for this step ahead, and wishes its sister institution all kinds of luck in the new venture. Ever since its organization St. John's has had military discipline; the value of this sort of training has proven invaluable. It helps to build up the boy morally, mentally, and spiritually. It is one of the best roads to perfect manhood, honor, and good citizenship.

And so St. John's congratulates St. Joseph's College. It hopes that on account of this new common bond, the friendship between the two institutions will be knit more closely together.

LOCAL NEWS

Two new boys Ward Chittenden of Denver and Hays Big Eagle of Hominy, Okla., have recently enrolled in school.

Capt. Brown and Capt. Simpson spent the week end of November 8 in Wichita. They motored down in the latter's car.

Phillip Hight of Arkansas City recently spent a few days here. He drove his aunt up to Salina to attend the Teachers' Meeting. He expects to return to St. John's after Christmas.

When the picture "The Spirit of Notre Dame" was shown at the Jayhawk Theatre, the management entertained the St. John's football team at one of the performances. The squads of Kansas Wesleyan and Salina Hi were also guests of the theatre.

Not long ago Trees had to undergo an operation for appendicitis in the hospital. He is now back at his classes but still seems a bit weak.

During football practice Pickinpaugh was so unfortunate as to break his collar bone. However he was able to be at classes within a day or two.

Major Fritsche frequently gives the entire corps a pass on Sunday afternoons. Many of the boys at this time go to the park and take motorboat rides on the Smoky Hill river.

Mrs. John Vinson of Leon, Kansas, and Mrs. Daisy Belknap of Iola, Kansas, were here recently to visit their nephew, Lawrence Blair.

Pickinpaugh's mother, Mrs. Campbell, of Denver, spent November 14 and 15 here with her son.

HUMOR

Chaplain: "Why are you wrapping up those left over pieces of toast?"

Wise: "I want to make some charcoal sketches this afternoon."

The Swope Park zoo in Kansas City has a laughing hyena. But that's nothing. Right here at St. John's we have a silent tiger.

Ted Lewis says he plans to become a marathon walker when he gets big. He wants to prepare for this by walking to and from church on Sundays with the boys of the Upper school.

Miss Yeomans: "Your face is clean, but how'd you get your hands so dirty?"
Simmons: "Washin' my face."

Capt. Brown: "Tincher, give me a good example of a collective noun."
Tincher: "A garbage can."

Finkenbinder: "I wonder what to do. I see specks before my eyes."
Baker: "Why don't you take them off?"

A girl may love you at the bottom of her heart, but there is always room for some other guy at the top.

Capt. Simpson: "What three words are used more than any other in school?"
Ward: "I don't know."
Capt. Simpson: "Correct."

"He done me wrong," wailed the Arithmetic problem as McLeod handed in his examination paper.

JUNIOR SCHOOL NOTES

On November 8 and 9 Browitt was visited by his parents from Greeley, Colo.

Capt. Parks has introduced a new system in Eighth Grade mathematics. He assigns problems for the week instead of for the day as he has done in the past.

The boys in the Junior School will have ringside seats for football and track next year. The new track and football field is just north of the Junior Building.

In the latter part of October Munch visited at his home in Concordia for three days. He wanted to see his brother who had just returned from Honduras.

The Eighth Grade is now trying to memorize Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address."

Gray and Bossemeyer often go to town on important business. Many people wonder what it can be.

The County Superintendent recently visited the Junior School. He seemed pleased with what the boys are doing.

JIMMIE AND BOSSIE

Jimmie Gray, and Bossie
Were strolling down the street.
Jimmie Gray and Bossie
Met two girlies sweet.

"Good evening, girls," said Bossie.
"Ditto," said Jimmie Gray.
"Can't we go along with you?
Won't you let us, eh?"

Two girlish faces, reddened
And showed their teeth of pearl.
Two boyish hearts beat faster;
Two boyish brains did whirl.

Jimmie Gray and Bossie
And the girlies sweet
Strolled along together
Down the city street.

Capt. Baker: "Can you tell me how a stove pipe is made?"

Lindley: "First you take a big long hole and then you wrap some tin around it."

"Pardon me," said Griffith as he trod on his partner's toes for the twentieth time. "It's perfectly all right," responded she. "You see I'm a stamp collector."

Hartley: "When Capt. Parks enters his class room why does he first look on one side and then on the other?"

De Wolfe: "I don't know. Why?"
Hartley: "Because he can't look on both sides at the same time."

Capt. Brown (at room inspection): "Fickel, why didn't you clean this small rug?"

Fickel II: "That's not a rug. That's Norcross' towel."

Davlin: "What is the best way to make a coat last?"

Woad: "Make the vest and trousers first."

Corporal: "They say that girl you introduced me to is pretty hard, eh?"
Sergeant: "Hard is right. It would take a diamond to make an impression on her."

Coach: "I want to buy a lead pencil."
Lieut. Abbot: "Hard or soft?"
Coach: "Soft, I wish to write a love letter."

First Co-ed: "Is anybody looking?"
Second Co-ed: "No."

First Co-ed: "Then we don't have to smoke."

Betty: "How do I look?"
Swede: "Sweet enough to kiss."

Betty: "Oh—go on."

Mr. Brown: "Collier, repeat in your own words, 'I see the cow. The cow can run. The cow is pretty'."

Collier: "Lamp de cow. Ain't she a beaut? An' say, baby, she sure can step."

TEACHERS' MEETING IS HELD HERE IN SALINA

The city of Salina played host early this month to teachers from all over the state who had come to attend the annual teachers' meeting. No classes were held at St. John's the first day so that all the teachers might attend the opening session in the morning and the round table discussions in the afternoon. The general sessions were held in Memorial Hall and the special sessions in the various Salina school buildings. On the other days classes at St. John's proceeded as usual, but the teachers had the privilege of attending any meetings down town which they thought would be of benefit to them in their work.

On the evening of the second day a musical tea was given at Marymount College by the Salina Chamber of Commerce and the teachers of the several city schools for their visitors. Chaplain Mize and Miss Mize were the representatives of St. John's on the reception committee.

MOVIE OF AKRON SHOWN BEFORE STUDENT BODY

Most boys love aviation and dream of some day flying through the great open spaces. It is no wonder that the cadet corps appreciated the film shown in the study hall recently depicting the construction of the giant dirigible the Akron.

The boys watched the craft begin to take form in the mammoth hangar at Lakehurst, New Jersey. First came the placing of the twelve large ribs; then the nose was hoisted into place. Later when the great skeleton 783 feet long was complete, the eight 560 horse power engines were installed. Step after step of the building was shown until the great queen of the skies loomed up complete. Then came the christening by Mrs. Hoover and it majestically soared aloft on its first flight.

The cadets owe many thanks to Mr. Morey of the Goodyear Tire Co. for loaning this film to St. John's. Major Fritsche who had seen it that day at the Kiwanis club meeting secured it from him.

MRS. FRITSCHER HAS ARRIVED AT SCHOOL

It seems great to have a mother at school. Mrs. Fritsche, the wife of Maj. Fritsche, came the latter part of October. This year all the teachers are single with the exception of Maj. Fritsche.

Soon after Maj. Fritsche took over the superintendency of St. John's early last summer, Mrs. Fritsche was here for a couple of weeks. Then she left for Minnesota to visit relatives. Early in the fall she had to go through with an operation which kept her in the hospital for a long time. Upon leaving the hospital she motored down to Kansas with some friends who were going to California.

Already Mrs. Fritsche has won a place in the hearts of the boys. She gladly does mending for them and makes them feel at home in her quarters. She is taking the place of some one every boy longs for—a mother.

MR. REITZ ORGANIZES ST. JOHN'S QUARTET

This year's quartet which Mr. Reitz recently selected from the members of the Glee Club is working hard and promises to accomplish much during the year. The members are: Van Dervelde, 1st tenor; Bagnall, 2nd tenor; McClure, baritone; and Bolte I, base.

The boys in the quartet are all members of the Crack Squad and it is not unlikely that they will render one or more numbers when the Crack Squad takes trips in the future.

On the night of November 13 the quartet sang two numbers at the conclusion of an organ recital in the Presbyterian church. At this time Mr. Reitz presented one of his pupils, Harlan Wakefield, in recital, and he gave the St. John's quartet a place on the program.

FORMER CADET NOW ON ANNAPOLIS PAPER

Word has come that Harry I. Kintz, an old St. John's boy, has received an exceptional honor at Annapolis where he has just entered. He has been placed on the Plebe staff of the Naval Academy Log, a publication put out by the Annapolis cadets. With so many Plebes at Annapolis aspiring for such a position, it would seem that Kintz has been exceptionally honored.

Kintz, a native of Fairplay, Colo., was a cadet at St. John's for three years, leaving here in 1929. He belonged to the Bugle Corps and was bugler for the Crack Squad. At one of the spring competitions he won the Bugler's cup.

He was on the Skirmisher staff. It is probable that some of his repertorial work here helped somewhat to prepare him for the honor given him at Annapolis.

CADETS ENJOY SWIMS AT SALINA Y. M. C. A.

"Come on in; the water is fine." How the St. John's cadets enjoy their swims in the swimming pool at the Salina Y. M. C. A. Right after school four afternoons in the week—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday—the boys visit the Y. On Mondays the boys in the Junior School take their swim, and on the other three days the boys from the upper school go in groups. On Wednesdays and Saturdays when the cadets are on pass they are welcome to swim at any time when other classes are not in session.

A. F. Reinhardt and C. F. Smith, two of the Y. M. C. A. physical directors, have charge of the boys during their regular periods. They take a personal interest in the boys, instructing them in swimming and diving, and supervising them in their play.

The pool is an excellent one. The water which is changed frequently is treated with chemicals to guard against any contamination.

As to foolish questions, there is the story of a man who had a scar on his forehead. When asked how he got it, he said that he bit himself.

Friend: "And how could you bite yourself on the forehead?"

The man: "Well, I stood on a chair."

Army-Navy Competition

FIRST ARMY-NAVY GAME

On Saturday, October 24, the Army and Navy clubs took up arms for the first time this year to decide the football honors. The Army held an edge on the Navy throughout the entire game, both offensively and defensively, the Army making thirteen first-downs to the Navy's five.

The Navy managed, somehow, to hold Army scoreless for the first half, but in the third quarter an inspired Army team (the inspiration coming, evidently, from Coach Bolte at the half) marched steadily down the field under the guidance of their quarterback, Davelin. Finkenbinder crashed over the goal line ending the third quarter with a score of 7 to 0 in favor of the Army. The fourth quarter came, eventually, and went, uneventfully, with the Army still showing themselves the superior team.

Davelin and Finkenbinder deserve special credit for their work for the Army, while Tallchief II and Fickel II did well for the Navy.

SECOND ARMY-NAVY GAME

The Navy Club turned the tables on the Army Club, October 31, by winning the second Army-Navy game of the season. Two seemingly equal teams met that fair October afternoon, both determined to win. But in the second quarter, the Navy proved itself the superior team by marching down the field for the one touchdown of the game. They failed to make the extra point. The second half was uneventful and showed only the equality of the two teams.

The line up starting the game was as follows:

ARMY	NAVY
Mickleson	L.E. Fritsche
Leonard	L.T. Norcross
Freeman	L.G. Gerding
Tallchief I	C. Maker
Wead	R.G. Poindexter
Dixon	R.T. Kennedy
Blair	R.E. Brehmer
Davelin	Q. Williams
Rader	L.H. Fickel II
Davis	R.H. Tallchief II
Pickenpaugh	F. Fickel I

LAST ARMY-NAVY GAME

The Army defeated the Navy in their final football game of the season on November 7, with a score of 6 to 2, thus ending a suspense from which the whole school has been suffering since the Navy team surprised it by winning the second game of the season on October 31.

The game began with the Navy kicking off to the Army who marched back deep into Navy territory before losing the ball. The Navy, now in possession of the precious nugget, carried it by successive off-tackle smashes within one foot of Army's goal line when the first quarter ended. The Navy was still in possession of the ball with but one down to cross the line in.

The second quarter began. Navy's quarterback didn't call his off-tackle smash but tried a plunge off a kick formation which proved his downfall. The Navy didn't gain an inch and turned the ball over to the Army on their own one-foot line. The Army, instead of kicking, tried to run the ball around right end, and the play was spilled back of their goal line, making the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Navy.

The third quarter came and went without either team doing anything spectacular, but with the Navy fighting to keep its two-point lead over the Army.

In the fourth quarter the Army came in possession of the ball deep in their own territory and by steady substantial gains drew close to the Navy goal line, but the Navy held them ten yards from the goal for three downs and not an inch was gained. On the fourth down, Finkenbinder broke loose and crossed the goal line for a touchdown. The Army failed to make the extra point and the game ended Army 6, Navy 2.

LINCOLN DOWNS CADETS IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

A slightly crippled team began the Lincoln game a week after their tough battle with the "Terrible Swedes." Although the soldiers fought like demons, Lincoln was too much for them. The score was 13-0.

The game started with St. John's kicking. Lincoln could do nothing against the cadets strong defense, but Lincoln had an equally strong defense so the first quarter ended with neither team doing anything sensational.

Lincoln began the second quarter with an overwhelming determination to score, and the soldiers were, in turn, determined to hold them, but Lincoln scored and the half ended without further mishap. Again, in the third quarter, the invaders crossed the soldiers goal line and a Lincoln back put his toe to the ball for the extra point.

The fourth quarter began with St. John's marching the ball into Lincoln's territory, but only to turn it over to them by a long punt booted by VanDervele, the cadet's big fullback. After three downs, Lincoln, failing to make the necessary ten yards, kicked the pigskin to St. John's safety who returned it to the cadets' thirty-yard line. The game ended shortly after with the ball in St. John's possession.

On November 7 and 8 Poindexter received a visit from his father Mr. Clarence Poindexter and his brother-in-law Mr. Emerson, both from Kansas City.

***

About November 1st Mrs. Curtis of Hugo, Colo., was here to see her son Charles, and Mrs. Rader of Denver, to see her son.

SOLDIERS DEFEATED BY MARQUETTE WOLVERINES

On November 4 the cadets opened fire on the Marquette Wolverines with much vigorous foot ball spirit. Although the Marquette boys proved too much for them they played hard.

In the first quarter St. John's left tackle sent the ball far down into the Wolverine territory. They marched it steadily up the field and by using long end runs gained much ground; they crossed the line and made the extra point through tackle. The quarter ended just after the kick-off with the score 7 to 0 in Marquette's favor.

The second quarter began with Van Dervele booting a beautiful punt down to Marquette which was returned slowly. Then again they made gains by end runs and off tackle smashes. Shakespeare and Deppen stopped the Wolverine repeatedly when they least expected it, but by repeated end runs they crossed the goal line and scored the extra point by an end run. The half ended with St. John's in possession of the ball.

As Marquette kicked off at the beginning of the second half St. John's resolved to hold them, but the repeated end runs made around right end gave them another touchdown, and an extra point. The soldiers received the kick and after failing to make the ten yards turned it over to the Wolverines on a long punt and again the ball was returned to St. John's in the same manner. The cadets then made first and ten but could get no further. The score was 21 to 0 when the third quarter ended.

The fourth quarter began to show that St. John's were fighting with the same old fight because they held Marquette until the last five minutes when they started their attack of end runs and crossed the line and scored the extra point on a short pass.

The game ended just after the kick off, Marquette 28, St. John's 0.
